Debate Over Christmas

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The Question: 'Is Christmas Unconstitutional?'

NEW YORK (AP) — Debate has broken out in various parts of the country this holiday season over the question: "Is Christmas unconstitutional?"

A number of people argue that some aspects of it are, including Christmas decorations with a religious motif in public places such as schools.

Others contend that school singing of Christmas carols associated with religion also runs afoul of the First Amendment, which provides for the separation of church and state.

Mayor Norman A. Myers of Overland, Mo., was stunned by a letter from two lawyers demanding on constitutional grounds, the removal of a nativity scene from the City Hall lawn.

The mayor said he would ignore the letter and commented: "If this is the type of Constitution we are living under, it certainly is in line for revision."

In Duluth, Minn., an unbeliever named Garry DeYoung, 44, took unbrage when one of his children brought home a program indicating that traditional carols would form a part of a school Christmas program.

DeYoung asserted that "the school's use of a religious holiday to present a religiously oriented program constitutes an affront to non-Christians and is a direct violation of the First Amendment."

After taking counsel with the school board attorney, Principal Donald Olson deleted the carols from the program.

The Florida branch of the American Civil Liberties Union advised school officials throughout the state that Christmas pageants with a religious content are unconstitutional and should be avoided. Reaction in general was outraged. Said Sheriff Lehigh Wilson of Brevard County: "If I am handed a warrant to arrest some teacher, somebody else will have to serve it—I won't."

In Eugene, Ore., defenders of the Constitution obtained a court order forbidding the city to light up a 40-foot cross which is erected each year in a municipal park. City officials turned on the lights and appealed to the state Supreme Court.

The New Mexico branch of the Civil Liberties Union wrote the State Department of Education objecting to Christmas religious programs in the schools.

The department sent copies of the union's letter to all school superintendents with no recommendation one way or the other.

But in the same envelopes went copies of a retort by Albuquerque school officials saying that the observance of Christmas is as much cultural as religious and that they intended to continue it.

In East Paterson, N.J., Mrs. Shirley Friedman stood up at a school board meeting and objected to paintings of Christ and other biblical figures on windows and doors of the Memorial Junior-Senior High School.

The 10 board members walked out of the school, where they were meeting, looked at the decorations, walked back in and went on to the next order of business without taking any action on the protest.

Most Strikes In Southern Panhandle

Bad Weather Gives Hanoi Respite From U.S. Raids

SAIGON (AP) — Foul weather gave Hanoi respite today from U.S. air raids that had been largely centered around the North Vietnamese capital since last Thursday, U.S. officers reported. Most strikes were limited to the southern panhandle.

Pilots returning from missions Tuesday said they shot down two more of the MIGs that have challenged them in fierce dogfights during the unusually clear skies in a season when monsoon storm clouds normally veil North Vietnam's heartland.

Two other Soviet-designed jets were reported probably destroyed.

The U.S. 11th Infantry Brigade, made up of 4,300 jungle fighters, arrived by ship at Qui Hon for duty in South Vietnam.

This followed up the arrival of the bulk of two fresh brigades of the 101st Airborne Division last week in the biggest Pacific airlift of the war, part of a buildup toward a roll of 525,000 by next June.

At one point last week about 475,000 American servicemen were reported in Vietnam, exceeding the 472,800 committed to Korea at the peak of the Korean War in 1953.

There was an unusually heavy movement home for Christmas, however, of troops who had completed their tours of duty and the U.S. Command listed the total in Vietnam as of last Saturday midnight at 470,000.

Debarkation of the infantry brigade again pushed the unofficial estimate of troop strength here past the Korean peak.

Pilots who raided the Hanoi area said the city's principal bridge—the 19-span Paul Doumer Bridge across the Red River—was battered beyond use. They reported eight spans were down and three more were damaged.

The bridge is one of two over which all road and rail traffic from Red China to Hanoi must pass and is the principal artery for munition and war supplies moved by land.

There was no estimate of how long it would take to get the bridge functioning again. But intelligence reports say the North Vietnamese have been working during the past month of cloud cover to build pontoon bridges and bamboo structures which could be quickly floated into place as substitutes.

The raiders also pummeled the big railroad shops on the northeastern edge of Hanoi. Pilots said they caught some 50 rail cars and left them under a blanket of flame and smoke.

The two MIG kills brought the total number of Communist jets claimed by American pilots to 101. The American Command credits Red pilots with shooting down 36 U.S. warplanes over the North, including two since the letup in the northeast monsoons last Thursday permitted the resumption of intensive attacks on the Hanoi area.

Carrying new dull-black M16 rifles and dark green field equipment, the 11th Brigade troops marched onto Vietnamese soil to a welcome from Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., deputy commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, and Marine Lt. Gen. Robert Cushman.

The brigade will undergo orientation training, then join the Americal Division in combat. They had trained since early this year in the thick vegetation of Koolau Mountain, on the Hawaiian island of Oahu.

The Americal Division, operating in the jungles and on the coastal plains of Quang Tin and Quang Nam provinces about 300 miles northeast of Saigon, reported killing 55 Communist soldiers in running, scattered fighting Tuesday.

Chances Of Recovery Good

Washkansky 'Improved,' Chief Surgeon Discloses

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky's chief surgeon said today that he has improved in the last 24 hours and his lung ailment is having no adverse effect on his transplanted heart, Radio South Africa reported today.

The government radio said Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the surgical team that performed history's first human heart transplant, reported Washkansky's lungs are responding to treatment and his chances of recovery are good.

There are no signs of the body rejecting the heart, the broadcast said Barnard added.

Earlier today a hospital bulletin said there was no change in Washkansky's condition and he "is still seriously ill." But the doctors Tuesday night said he had made a slight gain after a transfusion of white blood cells.

A spokesman for the team of 30 specialists caring for the 53-year-old wholesale grocer said they would probably repeat the treatment to provide Kashkansky with more of the white cells that combat infection.

A sharp decrease in his white corpuscle count Tuesday indicated to physicians that Washkansky's body was acting against its own tissue more than against the borrowed heart he received 17 days ago.

Until he took a turn for the worse over the weekend, Washkansky had made a startling show of robustness since the heart of a 25-year-old woman who died in an auto accident was implanted in his chest Dec. 3.

The white cell transfusion, gathered from the blood of four donors, was made on the recommendation of a French blood cancer specialist who reported the treatment had remarkable results in some cases.

Washkansky's physicians were working virtually in the unknown on the world's first human heart recipient, and Dr. M.C. Botha, the team's chief pathologist, acknowledged they were "playing this by ear."

"We were very well aware of this danger of rejection before the operation and have lived every day since the operation with the awareness that some form or other of rejection was a strong possibility," he said.

The surgical team had taken hope from the report of an American surgeon, Dr. T.E. Starzl, who Botha said encountered similar rejection circumstances in kidney transplants. Most of the kidney patients Starzl treated at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Denver, Colo. survived after being ill for about two weeks when their own tissue was attacked by the body, Botha said.

35,000 U.S. Troops Due From Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today that the withdrawal of up to 35,000 U.S. Army and Air Force troops from Germany to the United States will begin in April.

Plans for the redeployment were announced last May 2. The aim is to reduce the gold-dollar drain stemming from heavy U.S. overseas spending.

The forces being withdrawn will remain committed to the North Atlantc Treaty Organiation.

'Bad' Santa

CINCINNATI (AP) — Santa Claus inadvertently kept police from discovering the identity of two bank robbers here Tuesday.

Santa Claus happened to be standing in front of cameras that take pictures of any persons making a transaction in the bank and the robbers did not get their pictures taken.

The two bandits remained at large today with $4,200 they took from a branch of the Provident Bank in the Walnut Hills section of the city.

LBJ Outlines 5-Point Peace Plan To End War

South Viet, Communist Talks Urged

Proposals Based On Policy That North Leave South Alone

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says "the war could be stopped in a matter of days" if South Vietnam's president talks informally with South Vietnamese Communists and wins their agreement to abide by the Geneva accords.

And on curing violence at home, Johnson says he's going to tell American businessmen either they help in hiring a half million hard-core unemployed or the government will offer them jobs—"as expensive as it is."

Johnson spoke hopefully of "good results" through Saigon talks with members of the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong political arm, during a wide-ranging pretaped television interview broadcast nationally Tuesday night as he winged toward Australia.

Administration sources said the President may stress this point privately with President Nguyen Van Thieu, of South Vietnam, who also is headed for the Melbourne memorial service for Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Thieu has been rebuffed by Hanoi in his call for direct negotiations with North Vietnam. He has refused to recognize the National Liberation Front (NLF) as a government, but has left the way open for informal talks with its members.

Johnson outlined five peace proposals based on existing U.S. policy demands that North Vietnam "leave your neighbors alone." They were:

1. The demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam must be respected in accordance with the 1954 Geneva agreements.

2. The unity of Vietnam as a whole must be peacefully negotiated and adjusted.

3. North Vietnamese troops must get out of Laos and stop infiltrating that country, as re-

Ursu To Seek Second Term

County's Engineer Files For Primary

County Engineer John Ursu filed Tuesday with the County Election Board to seek renomination for a second term on the Democratic ticket at the May 7 primaries.

Ursu resides at 791 Jennings Ave., Salem, with his wife, the former Estelle Sweeney of Salem, and their son, John Jr., 9. Elected in 1964, he began his current four-year term in January 1965.

Ursu was graduated from Salem High School in 1947 and from Case Institute of Technology at Cleveland in 1955. He was employed a brief time in Mahoning County and then worked the next four years with the Ohio Highway Department.

He resigned the state post when he first ran for public office, then returned in 1961, serving until 1963. He was self-employed for about a year before being elected to the county post.

Ursu attends the Methodist Church at Salem and is a member of the Columbiana County Society of Professional Engineers.

Small Boats Continue To Drag River

2 More Bodies Are Recovered, Raising Death Toll To 23

POINT PLEASANT, W.Va. (AP) — Small boats continued to drag the Ohio River today downstream from the collapsed suspension bridge here while divers attempted to free wrecked autos from the mangled steel and concrete 40 feet under water.

The divers use torches to cut the sunken steel girders into workable lengths, which are then hauled up by 100-ton floating derricks. Officials estimate it may take several months to clear all debris from the river bottom.

Searchers have recovered 23 bodies since the Silver Bridge collapsed Friday. It was loaded with bumper-to-bumper traffic at the time, and Civil Defense officials estimate there are at least 40 persons still missing.

Two more bodies were brought up this morning.

An emergency shuttle service across the New York Central Railroad bridge 300 yards upstream of the collapsed bridge is continuing. Officials hope this will ease some of the traffic on the Pomeroy, Ohio-Mason, W.Va. bridge 20 miles north of here.

Yule Parade Will Begin At 6 In Newell

Santa Claus will be on hand tonight during the annual Newell Christmas parade sponsored by the Auxiliary of American Legion Post 114.

Auxiliary spokesmen said the parade will begin at 6 in the vicinity of 2nd St. and move along Washington St. to the fire station.

Santa will arrive atop a fire engine and be escorted by the Wells Junior High School band to the station, where he will distribute treats to the children.

But Call It A 'Sham,' Disappointment

Rhodes' Districting Plan Supported By Democrats

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Though calling it a "sham" and a disappointment, Democratic leaders today promised reluctant support of a congressional redistricting proposal unveiled Monday by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

House Minority Whip John C. McDonald of Newark told a joint legislative committee charged with drawing new districts that Democrats would not block the plan if it were left unchanged.

The measure would replace districts upset earlier this month by the U.S. Supreme Court, which said populations of existing districts in Ohio were too uneven to comply with the "one man, one vote" principle.

The committee, which recessed until Jan. 5 without taking any action, was warned by William Van Tilberg of the State Attorney General's Office that federal courts would not accept districts less evenly drawn than those in the administration proposal.

Van Tilberg was on the task force which produced the plan leveling populations in 24 proposed districts to within one per cent of each other.

"It would be virtually impossible to devise a plan that had a lesser percentage of deviation from the 1960 census, even though many districts vary drastically from one another based on current population figures," McDonald said.

McDonald added that the plan did not seem to jeopardize Democrat incumbents, although it fell short "of the standard of political fairness that we had hoped would be incorpprated into any proposal."

Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of Democratic State Headquarters, said Tuesday he would support the plan if adopted, though he considered it "an absolute sham" and a "public relations gimmick for the governor."

Meanwhile, House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood would not commit himself if endorsing the plan.

"I'm not backing off from the plan—I have never embraced it," he said.

Kurfess told newsmen after the hearing that he would urge house support, however, for any plan approved by the committee.

New Yorker Honored

John F. McMahon Named To Get Bleininger Award

John Francis McMahon, dean emeritus of the College of Ceramics at the University of New York, was named Tuesday night to receive the 21st annual Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award for "distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics."

His selection was announced during a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society, which confers the award in memory of the late Dr. A. V. Bleininger, who was research director at the Homer Laughlin China Co. The ceramists met at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh.

The gold medal and scroll symbolizing the award will be presented to McMahon at a dinner meeting of the section in March. The award was established in 1948. McMahon was named by an award committee headed by Vincent Chiochetti of the Corning Glass Research and Engineering Center in Pittsburgh.

McMahon retired from his university duties on Oct. 1, 1965, after devoting all except 12 years of his career to the College of Ceramics.

Immediately after he received his bachelor's degree in ceramics from Alfred, he served for a year as an assistant to Dr. Charles F. Binns, then director of the Ceramic College. He went to work in 1924 as a ceramic engineer for Queens Run Refractories in Lock Hav-

Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of Democratic State Headquarters, said Tuesday he would support the plan if adopted, though he considered it "an absolute sham" and a "public relations gimmick for the governor."

Meanwhile, House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood would not commit himself if endorsing the plan.

"I'm not backing off from the plan—I have never embraced it," he said.

Kurfess told newsmen after the hearing that he would urge house support, however, for any plan approved by the committee.

New Yorker Honored

John F. McMahon Named To Get Bleininger Award

John Francis McMahon, dean emeritus of the College of Ceramics at the University of New York, was named Tuesday night to receive the 21st annual Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award for "distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics."

His selection was announced during a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society, which confers the award in memory of the late Dr. A. V. Bleininger, who was research director at the Homer Laughlin China Co. The ceramists met at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh.

The gold medal and scroll symbolizing the award will be presented to McMahon at a dinner meeting of the section in March. The award was established in 1948. McMahon was named by an award committee headed by Vincent Chiochetti of the Corning Glass Research and Engineering Center in Pittsburgh.

McMahon retired from his university duties on Oct. 1, 1965, after devoting all except 12 years of his career to the College of Ceramics.

Immediately after he received his bachelor's degree in ceramics from Alfred, he served for a year as an assistant to Dr. Charles F. Binns, then director of the Ceramic College. He went to work in 1924 as a ceramic engineer for Queens Run Refractories in Lock Hav-

2 Bound Over For Burglary In Gas Station

Two 18-year-old East Liverpool youths were bound over to the grand jury today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after preliminary hearings on charges they burglarized an East End service station early last Thursday morning.

The court set $1,000 appearance bonds for the defendants—Terry Wolfe of W. Drury Ln. and John William Finlay, also known as Bill Finlay, of 820 Highland Ave. Both pleaded not guilty. Wolfe was represented by Bernard Fineman and Finlay had G. William Brokaw as counsel.

Capt. Kenneth H. Mooney and Patrolman William A. Devon signed affidavits alleging the two entered the Petrosol Service Station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Park Way and obtained a toy race track set worth $40 and some other merchandise.

The prosecution's prime witness at the preliminary hearing was Keith Allen Matheny, 18,

Previous Action Snags Wellsville Housing Setup

A previously - passed resolution stands in the way of new action by Wellsville Council on a low-cost housing program.

During a general discussion Tuesday night on what was described as a new procedure on such programs by the federal housing authority at Chicago, the legislators were reminded that an agreement had been approved some time ago with McLean Associates for a comprehensive housing survey at a cost of $600.

—:—

THE DISCUSSION came to a head after Councilman J. B. Phillips moved that a resolution be placed on first reading relative to the new housing procedure. The action was seconded by Councilman Robert Taggart.

Phillips acted after earlier submitting a facsimile of a copy of a measure from the housing authority supplied by Merrill Hall of East Liverpool, director of the county housing program.

Phillips reported that he, Russell Keefer and Taggart, legislators appointed to the planning commission, had met with Hall, Mayor William Daugherty, William Shoub and Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, on Dec. 6 and were informed that it was not necessary to have a planned program under the new procedure and that to qualify for aid a community would have to approve a resolution and forward it to the authority.

ACTION ON the motion by Phillips was delayed when a copy of it was handed to Delmar T. O'Hara, city solicitor, for an explanation.

O'Hara said his office had not been contacted and he knew nothing of the procedure or what it involved. He then pointed out that a resolution had been passed some time ago and an agreement had been made with McLean Associates for the comprehensive housing study. He added that he assumed the matter had been taken care of and advised that the city should terminate the services of the Association or ascertain what had been done about it before acting on the second resolution.

Allen Baldwin, president of Council, commented to O'Hara, "We are in the dark just as you are. It's a bombshell to me."

When a further explanation of the new procedure was asked for, Keefer said it would mean the government would lease or buy existing properties or vacant lots to build on by dealing through a local public agency or a real estate dealer.

Councilman Jack Call raised the question: "If this is passed, what happens to the agreement with McLean Associates? Shouldn't we find out if it is in existence?" Keffer replied, "I understand the other resolution had gone out of existence and in order for Wellsville to benefit Council would have to pass the new resolution."

O'HARA WAS asked by Call what steps should be taken to terminate the dealing with McLean Associates. He replied the city either should drop its agreement with the firm or ascertain how much work had been done.

O'Hara continued, "When the plan for the housing project for Wellsville was launched it was even with other cities of the area, but now the city is being dished out a second-best program. Administrative officials were lax in doing things that needed to be done to get the program going." He then said he felt a caucus session of Council should be held and someone in authority brought in to explain the new procedure.

Taggart suggested writing the state to delay construction of the new highway until the housing program is worked out. O'Hara commented that the misconception that residents whose homes will be taken by the highway will be able to move into low-cost housing units should be corrected. If the resolution were passed tonight, it would not be a few months but a minimum of two years before the building program would be completed, he added.

Wayne Rose, clerk, reminded Council that the resolution didn't say anything about building new houses, just leasing or buying existing homes, some of which are very old. "The resolution is a legal document and if approved is therefore binding," he said.

Call suggested ordering in an ordinance instead of placing the resolution on first reading, thus giving time to study the issue further. He inquired why a caucus hadn't been held on the measure, to which Phillips replied that the resolution wasn't available until four days ago. Baldwin declared the motion illegal and Phillips and Taggart withdrew their motion and second.

A SUGGESTION was made by Keefer for Council to get in touch with Hall to determine what procedure would be necessary to cancel the previous action. Baldwin instructed the commission members to get whomever else they wanted in their group to represent the city and to notify Council of the arrangement for someone to explain the new housing procedure.

In committee reports, Councilman Paul Todd said there has been no change in the safety signs near Garfield School which had been requested at the Dec. 5 meeting. Keefer reported Mayor Daugherty promised something would be done to remedy the hazardous situation when it could be gotten to. Baldasare is away on vacation.

Call said he had been contacted by a member of the Garfield PTA regarding the placing of a crossing guard somewhere between Commerce St. and Maple Ave. He informed the person if anything could be done it would be the first of the year, if funds are available.

Taggart expressed the opinion that the clerk should be required to give copies of the minutes of each Council session to the mayor, service - safety director, auditor and chief of police so they could become acquainted with the action taken. Call commented that this could become a two-way street, with the four departments also sending in their reports to Council.

Regarding the $10,000 for cleaning a storm sewer from 8th to 13th Sts., Call said he had been told anything over $1,000 had to be advertised for competitive bidding unless an emergency existed. Atty. William Telzrow explained that he had asked Auditor Edgar Davidson if money was available and that he was unwilling to say definitely until the close of the year. Telzrow had been instructed at the Dec. 5 meeting to bring in legislation to use $10,000 from the unappropriated fund for the sewer cleaning.

George Lawton and Glenn Mathess were absent.

They pleaded not guilty and were bound over to the grand jury from Municipal Court and Eastern Court at East Palestine. They are in the County Jail in lieu of bond.

Distorted Picture Of 'Home'

One theme recurs with alarming frequency in letters from Young Americans on military service in Vietnam.

They are upset by draft-card demonstrations, anti-Vietnam War demonstrations and riots back home. This is alarming. They are getting a distorted picture.

Most Americans back home never have seen these things; never expect to see them. Yet, it is easy to understand how an American overseas, reading and hearing nothing but the "news," might think the exceptional is commonplace.

It would be the same distortion foreigners had when they watched U.S. movies and concluded everybody in America was a cowboy or a gangster.

The communications media cannot avoid distortion even here at home, where people sometimes get the impression the country is comprised of juvenile delinquents, hippies, rioters, strikers and demonstrators. But here at home, the distortion is corrected by first-hand knowledge that life is going on as usual and most people know nothing about behavior that makes news.

In Vietnam there is no first-hand knowledge, only the distortion implicit in hand-me-down news. Militarists running the war may even be making the most of the anger of U.S. servicemen against things they judge to be unpatriotic.

Only a handful of Americans are engaged in newsworthy activities. The rest of us are going about routine living, which currently includes heartache for more than half a million Americans in faroff Vietnam.

We are unclear and uncertain about the war being fought there, but there is nothing unclear or uncertain about the way we feel toward the men sent there to fight it. We are behind them 100 per cent.

Not Only The Safety Factor

Officials of the Ohio Highway Department are concerned about the durability of the Chester Bridge, Ft. Steuben Bridge and Pomeroy Bridge as a result of the Point Pleasant disaster last week.

This does not mean the officials feel the bridges are unsafe — only that special inspections are warranted as a result of the collapse of the Point Pleasant span which remains unexplained.

Bent girders, broken weld plates, holes in the walkway, crumbling mortar in the stonework and other wear and tear are evident on the Chester Bridge. None of these necessarily indicate a fundamental structural weakness, but a thorough inspection by knowledgeable engineers is not only timely, it is imperative after Friday's tragedy.

The questions concerning the Point Pleasant bridge failure are not only "Why did it happen," but "Why was it permitted to happen?"

Motorists' anxious reports of impending trouble were obviously ignored by the West Virginia authorities responsible for the span.

It will be easy for spokesmen to issue explanations of lack of money for new bridges or that the collapse was a freak occurrence beyond control. They will say hindsight has made everyone a bridge expert. But they cannot escape the fact they were charged with the safety of bridge travelers.

West Virginia Att. Gen. C. Donald Robertson is expecting a flood of claims from estates of those killed. He anticipates the suits will run into the millions.

It is going to be difficult for West Virginia to prove it met its obligation to maintain the safety of a bridge which lies on the bottom of the Ohio.

Worry by area motorists about the condition of the Chester Bridge, a suspension span 33 years older than the "Silver Bridge," is justified. And the Ohio Highway Department, disturbed by the mystery at Point Pleasant, has started to take the proper steps to insure there will be no repeat of Friday's disaster.

The department has a man assigned to the bridge here; it reports it conducts regular inspections; a crew was on the span Tuesday on repair work. Neglect, the cause of the Point Pleasant collapse, apparently not a factor here.

What is a factor is the need to find out as quickly as possible if engineers are convinced the Chester Bridge is safe now, will be safe in the near future.

What is needed now is a deep consideration of planning to replace the span which is not now capable of meeting the peak traffic flow, and certainly will not be adequate to handle the volume of vehicles expected when Routes 11 and Route 7 become full four - lane feeders from the north and south, and local and Route 30 patterns mount to new levels.

Land Reform Needs Reform

Agitation over South Vietnam has been stirred up on a new front.

There is new congressional criticism about the slow pace of redistribution of land expropriated from the French or secured from Vietcong forces.

Reps. John Moss and Ogden R. Reid rapped the slow pace followed by the Saigon government in land reform. They charged a Viet Cong program has distributed five times as much land among South Vietnamese as the government process.

The representatives, who worked on a yet-to-be-released report on South Vietnam's land reform, called on Secretary of State Dean Rusk to "take such action as is necessary to make crystal clear to the government of South Vietnam the imperative nature of its undertaking a true commitment of action with regard to the pressing problems of land reform."

Secretary Rusk replied he felt the South Vietnamese government had taken an encouraging stand on the redistribution of land.

Rep. Reid said the present 247 acres maximum per person was excessive and should be reduced to 7 to 10 acres as in South Korea and Japan. This would permit more South Vietnamese to benefit from the program, he said.

Both House members were enthusiastic about the broad popular support that could be attained by effective land distribution.

They said the pledges made by President Nguyen Van Bieu last November are encouraging but meaningless without some action.

The Saigon government has been in power only a month and a half but opposition is mounting daily.

No one expected overnight miracles. It was expected that some steps would be taken immediately, perhaps steps that produce more of a symbolic effect than real results. A significant hiring or firing would have the job done.

Just enough to keep alive the hope of coming changes aimed at bettering the lot of all South Vietnamese.

It takes time to bring about reform in a nation. However, government officials cannot afford to let time slip away without making some progress. They may not get a second chance.

Purely Personal Observations

Nothing does less for the female figure and posture than a nurse's uniform. By the same token, nothing brings out more of the bad features of the assorted females who work in hospitals than their assorted working garments — half-shapeless dresses, ghastly white stockings, flat-heeled shoes. It takes a real beauty to look good with so many handicaps.

It is my job when our household sends Christmas cards to write personal messages to friends we never see, and I realize we have nothing to say to them any more for that very reason: We never see them. It is as futile as trying to pick up threads of acquaintanceship with old friends from schooldays.

Everybody is entitled to a theory about urban problems. My theory is that cities, themselves, are the problem. I do not believe it is good for people to live like snakes in a pit, birds in a cage, animals in a zoo — or whatever cities remind you of — maybe ants in a hill, or bees in a hive.

Halftime band shows at football games are going to be a drag, unless something new can be done to juice them up. I suggest it would be more interesting to see exhibitions of punting and passing, or even just baton-twirling.

I like to tell about basketball games back home, where a pot-bellied stove jutted out onto the floor about so far and the trick was to bulldog an opponent into making contact with its red-hot surface. Basketball scores were outlandish — 12 to 8. Fouls were called only for using guns and knives.

Not being checked out in correspondence-school surgery course, I confess I do not understand how experimenters fooling with heart transplants can hook up the wiring of the nervous system that presumably must be done to keep the heart beating in a rhythmic pattern.

I am bemused by the word "structured," to denote how an organization is put together. Listening to subsequent comments, I get the feeling that when organizations are "firmly structured" they are on the verge of being "paralyzed," which confirms my notion that human resourcefulness is blighted by overmanagement.

Among the boys in the office there is general agreement that the brunette dazzler who graces bit spots on the Smothers Brothers show is the most under-rated thing in TViewing business right now.

The loneliest human being on earth is an intellectual striving to be reasonable about an emotion-packed issue. You have to give Sen. Fulbright credit for trying.

My apologies extend also to the parents of those students, the driver of the bus, as well as to the two passengers in my own car.

I want these people to know that I do realize the seriousness of my irresponsibility as a licensee even though the accident, through God's great mercy, was only a very minor one. It could have been much worse!

I am so thankful that no one was injured, and I sincerely feel that the fine of thirty dollars imposed upon me by the court was a very small price to pay for carelessness. I am only glad that no one else had to pay for my carelessness.

Teamsters Raid New Areas

WASHINGTON — Suddenly it is coming through clear and loud that the Teamsters brotherhood is being a lot less fraternal toward other union chiefs than it was even under the ailing and imprisoned Jimmy Hoffa.

Victor Riesel

"The Teamsters are raiding the hell out of all of us," a union leader observed the other day pointing to a confidential survey of the brotherhood's recent activities all the way from New York to Los Angeles and Portland, Ore.

An examination of the data on the brotherhood's raids of other union jurisdictions now appears to prove one startling conclusion:

The Teamsters are organizing a sprawling labor federation of their own reaching into fields far from the nation's highways — a federation stretching from movie studios to radio stations to newspapers to missile and space bases, football fields, communication corporations, airports and even toy shops.

The Teamsters objective is a minimum membership of 2 million in the very nerve centers of the U.S.

They're reaching into white collar areas everywhere. Recently they invaded the jurisdiction of the National Assn. of Broadcast Employes and Technicians (NABET) in the movie production studios of a national television network. Any office staff in the regions near a strong Teamsters' local is fair game.

"They're raiding us everywhere," this correspondent was told by Howard Coughlin, "new young breed" type president of the Office and Professional Employes which has contracts with the big stock exchanges as well as in highly classified executive duties at nuclear installations and advance weaponry plants.

"We beat them recently when they attempted to take 1,600 employes from our union in just one company. But they're at us all the time."

APPARENTLY NO UNION is too big for the Teamsters to take on in frontal attacks. Recently, the survey reveals, the brotherhood, now actively directed by Frank Fitzsimmons who may or may not have control over the swashbuckling locals, moved in on the United Auto Workers, the United Steelworkers, the Building Service Employes, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the International Union of Electrical Workers, the Sheet Metal Workers, the Seafarers, the Chemical Workers and some construction unions.

These organizations make up the infrastructure, the inner establishment of the AFL-CIO. So the challenge is there though unnoticed by the public because the raids on established unions are spread across the entire country.

What now concerns both labor and federal observers is the expansion of the Teamsters into areas new to them.

Not too long ago the unsavory Teamsters Local 295 drove the powerful transportation workers union from the strategic air freight sections of New York's Kennedy Airport. Local 295 then was run by John McNamara, a friend of both Jimmy Hoffa's and the Johnny Dio bloc of East Coast operatives now being investigated.

The Teamsters, also not too long ago, began whipping its communications division into shape. It absorbed the old American Communications Assn. (ACA) which has been unaffiliated since it was ousted from the former CIO. That section now is headed by Joe Selly, long considered a militant left winger.

It has its ambitions set on the radio and television fields as well as expanding its power into the RCA type of international cable communications. Not the least of its objectives is to take the tens of thousands of American Tel. and Tel. employes from Joe Beirne's Communications Workers of America.

ADD TO THIS the fact that the Teamsters also have been raiding the American Newspaper Guild and the Bookbinders at some newspaper and printing plants and the image grows stranger.

The raids and the fact that the Teamsters have not applied to the AFL-CIO for readmission despite Hoffa's inevitable long imprisonment, convinces national labor leaders that the brotherhood first wants to launch its own union federation. This can be done without any change in title, or merely by replacing words in the full name (Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Helpers, etc.) with such words as "Communication, Production, Transport."

So the labor leaders are doing what comes naturally. They are developing flying squads of their own, a technique now being used in Los Angeles. When the Teamsters raid one union, the others send in their crack business agents to defend a local which might crack under the brotherhood's assault.

Furthermore, the Teamsters sound more awesome than they are in some areas. Not only has Coughlin's Office and Professional Employees beat them back, but so have the Building Service Employes and the Communications Workers.

But what happens? The public and the businessmen get caught up in these swirling costly attacks and counterattacks.

And for no reason except the inner ambitions of some regional over-the-road barons. What price glory and bigger dukedoms?

RAYMOND MOLEY

Happy Holiday

In this holiday season I suggest that people of good will give an expression of gratitude to the members of their police forces.

The men in blue stand between us and chaos.

Police in most American cities have had a terrible year. Civil disorder mixed with violence plagued many cities, large and small. In the disorders, evil or deluded leaders encouraged unhappy people to regard policemen as the emblems of oppressive, unfair laws and government. Politicians seeking votes continually reminded underprivileged people that government neglected them.

Our police forces have been living in isolation from the people they are trying to serve and protect.

Minority groups scream about police "brutality." In demonstrations, these men are blamed for all our ills — the war in Vietnam, poverty, bad housing and the scarcity of jobs. This is at a time when more has been done to help the poor than ever before in our history.

Moreover, the courts, including the U.S. Supreme Court, and high executive officers in government have made the policeman's job more difficult by restrictions on his activity.

It is not easy for the average citizen to understand the psychology of a policeman.

He is sensitive to the inimical climate in which he serves. It hurts him to have us forget that the greater part of his day's energies is given to helping people, to friendly protection to children and the helpless, to lonely patrolling of dangerous streets, to giving advice and direction.

He is trained to understand the law, to respect it and enforce it. It is not to modify it. His records are kept at headquarters, and his tenure and promotion depend upon those records.

Deep in his sources of such happiness as he is allowed to enjoy, there is pride in the uniform he wears and the responsibility it imposes. Under the conditions now imposed upon him in our cities, this pride is tempered. His morale sinks.

It must be recognized that the rising crime rate is due in some part to the fact there are not enough policemen.

There is need for better training of recruits and the prevention of the narcotics traffic. But the decline of police morale is, in my judgment, the largest single factor.

As the spirit of the police officer declines, the potential of his perennial lawless enemy increases.

J. Edgar Hoover has released the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, compiled from statistics supported by local and state agencies. These cover the first nine months of 1967.

The overall increase since 1966 has been 16 per cent. Largest increase was in the Northeastern states.

It should be noted that New York, largest city in the Northeast, was not included among those figures. Early in 1966 the new police commissioner changed his department's method of reporting.

If the New York figures had been added to the Northeastern total, the record would have been much more serious. In New York, there were 187,795 serious crimes in 1965, which rose in the more realistic system of reporting in 1966 to 323,107.

In 1960 New York City had 390 willful killings in the first nine months. In the same period in 1967 there were 653, an increase of 67 per cent.

Because of inspired, disorderly demonstrations and under City Hall interference, the morale of New York's police has declined at an alarming rate.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Ceramic City Male Chorus of 45 voices presented a concert of Christmas music at the Second Presbyterian Church in East End.

William Baker was elected president of the Fairmont Community Club at Rogers.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The fifth birthday anniversary of Rock Springs Rebekah Lodge 244 was observed with a coverdish dinner. Mrs. Sadie Gibbs was chairman.

Music Department students at East Liverpool High School presented their second annual Christmas program under the direction of Lawrence Beck, supervisor of music, assisted by Delbert Smoke, Andrew Rohrbaugh and Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Charles Burgess, Mrs. Rita Veness, Mrs. Charles Martin and Mrs. Vera Doss were enrolled as new members of the Hill and Dell Club.

Temperatures soared to a Florida - like 62 degrees in the district, with Christmas only a few days away.

A Bread Line

Gourmets claim that French bread is one of the wonders of civilization, but Parisians — alas — are eating less.

Consumption of slender baguettes, crusty golden croissants, plump brioches and other baked treats has dropped significantly in recent years. Sociologists speculate that improved living standards have permitted many Parisians to turn to more expensive foods.

Perfectionists say, however, that the problem is quality. They blame inferior new wheat species, farmers' use of synthetic fertilizers and mass production in French bakeries.

Despite connoisseurs' grumbling, bread remains a staple in Paris and most of the world, the National Geographic Society says. Recipes call for a tremendous range of ingredients — from layers of pine bark to soybeans.

WASHINGTON — Suddenly it is coming through clear and loud that the Teamsters brotherhood is being a lot less fraternal toward other union chiefs than it was even under the ailing and imprisoned Jimmy Hoffa.

Victor Riesel

"The Teamsters are raiding the hell out of all of us," a union leader observed the other day pointing to a confidential survey of the brotherhood's recent activities all the way from New York to Los Angeles and Portland, Ore.

An examination of the data on the brotherhood's raids of other union jurisdictions now appears to prove one startling conclusion:

The Teamsters are organizing a sprawling labor federation of their own reaching into fields far from the nation's highways — a federation stretching from movie studios to radio stations to newspapers to missile and space bases, football fields, communication corporations, airports and even toy shops.

The Teamsters objective is a minimum membership of 2 million in the very nerve centers of the U.S.

They're reaching into white collar areas everywhere. Recently they invaded the jurisdiction of the National Assn. of Broadcast Employes and Technicians (NABET) in the movie production studios of a national television network. Any office staff in the regions near a strong Teamsters' local is fair game.

"They're raiding us everywhere," this correspondent was told by Howard Coughlin, "new young breed" type president of the Office and Professional Employes which has contracts with the big stock exchanges as well as in highly classified executive duties at nuclear installations and advance weaponry plants.

"We beat them recently when they attempted to take 1,600 employes from our union in just one company. But they're at us all the time."

APPARENTLY NO UNION is too big for the Teamsters to take on in frontal attacks. Recently, the survey reveals, the brotherhood, now actively directed by Frank Fitzsimmons who may or may not have control over the swashbuckling locals, moved in on the United Auto Workers, the United Steelworkers, the Building Service Employes, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the International Union of Electrical Workers, the Sheet Metal Workers, the Seafarers, the Chemical Workers and some construction unions.

These organizations make up the infrastructure, the inner establishment of the AFL-CIO. So the challenge is there though unnoticed by the public because the raids on established unions are spread across the entire country.

What now concerns both labor and federal observers is the expansion of the Teamsters into areas new to them.

Not too long ago the unsavory Teamsters Local 295 drove the powerful transportation workers union from the strategic air freight sections of New York's Kennedy Airport. Local 295 then was run by John McNamara, a friend of both Jimmy Hoffa's and the Johnny Dio bloc of East Coast operatives now being investigated.

The Teamsters, also not too long ago, began whipping its communications division into shape. It absorbed the old American Communications Assn. (ACA) which has been unaffiliated since it was ousted from the former CIO. That section now is headed by Joe Selly, long considered a militant left winger.

It has its ambitions set on the radio and television fields as well as expanding its power into the RCA type of international cable communications. Not the least of its objectives is to take the tens of thousands of American Tel. and Tel. employes from Joe Beirne's Communications Workers of America.

ADD TO THIS the fact that the Teamsters also have been raiding the American Newspaper Guild and the Bookbinders at some newspaper and printing plants and the image grows stranger.

The raids and the fact that the Teamsters have not applied to the AFL-CIO for readmission despite Hoffa's inevitable long imprisonment, convinces national labor leaders that the brotherhood first wants to launch its own union federation. This can be done without any change in title, or merely by replacing words in the full name (Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Helpers, etc.) with such words as "Communication, Production, Transport."

So the labor leaders are doing what comes naturally. They are developing flying squads of their own, a technique now being used in Los Angeles. When the Teamsters raid one union, the others send in their crack business agents to defend a local which might crack under the brotherhood's assault.

Furthermore, the Teamsters sound more awesome than they are in some areas. Not only has Coughlin's Office and Professional Employees beat them back, but so have the Building Service Employes and the Communications Workers.

But what happens? The public and the businessmen get caught up in these swirling costly attacks and counterattacks.

And for no reason except the inner ambitions of some regional over-the-road barons. What price glory and bigger dukedoms?

Odd Facts

The moon appears cold and lifeless, but evidence collected in 1967 by the Surveyor V spacecraft indicates that the earth's satellite was warm in the past.

Happy Holiday

In this holiday season I suggest that people of good will give an expression of gratitude to the members of their police forces.

The men in blue stand between us and chaos.

Police in most American cities have had a terrible year. Civil disorder mixed with violence plagued many cities, large and small. In the disorders, evil or deluded leaders encouraged unhappy people to regard policemen as the emblems of oppressive, unfair laws and government. Politicians seeking votes continually reminded underprivileged people that government neglected them.

Our police forces have been living in isolation from the people they are trying to serve and protect.

Minority groups scream about police "brutality." In demonstrations, these men are blamed for all our ills — the war in Vietnam, poverty, bad housing and the scarcity of jobs. This is at a time when more has been done to help the poor than ever before in our history.

Moreover, the courts, including the U.S. Supreme Court, and high executive officers in government have made the policeman's job more difficult by restrictions on his activity.

It is not easy for the average citizen to understand the psychology of a policeman.

He is sensitive to the inimical climate in which he serves. It hurts him to have us forget that the greater part of his day's energies is given to helping people, to friendly protection to children and the helpless, to lonely patrolling of dangerous streets, to giving advice and direction.

He is trained to understand the law, to respect it and enforce it. It is not to modify it. His records are kept at headquarters, and his tenure and promotion depend upon those records.

Deep in his sources of such happiness as he is allowed to enjoy, there is pride in the uniform he wears and the responsibility it imposes. Under the conditions now imposed upon him in our cities, this pride is tempered. His morale sinks.

It must be recognized that the rising crime rate is due in some part to the fact there are not enough policemen.

There is need for better training of recruits and the prevention of the narcotics traffic. But the decline of police morale is, in my judgment, the largest single factor.

As the spirit of the police officer declines, the potential of his perennial lawless enemy increases.

J. Edgar Hoover has released the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, compiled from statistics supported by local and state agencies. These cover the first nine months of 1967.

The overall increase since 1966 has been 16 per cent. Largest increase was in the Northeastern states.

It should be noted that New York, largest city in the Northeast, was not included among those figures. Early in 1966 the new police commissioner changed his department's method of reporting.

If the New York figures had been added to the Northeastern total, the record would have been much more serious. In New York, there were 187,795 serious crimes in 1965, which rose in the more realistic system of reporting in 1966 to 323,107.

In 1960 New York City had 390 willful killings in the first nine months. In the same period in 1967 there were 653, an increase of 67 per cent.

Because of inspired, disorderly demonstrations and under City Hall interference, the morale of New York's police has declined at an alarming rate.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Ceramic City Male Chorus of 45 voices presented a concert of Christmas music at the Second Presbyterian Church in East End.

William Baker was elected president of the Fairmont Community Club at Rogers.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The fifth birthday anniversary of Rock Springs Rebekah Lodge 244 was observed with a coverdish dinner. Mrs. Sadie Gibbs was chairman.

Music Department students at East Liverpool High School presented their second annual Christmas program under the direction of Lawrence Beck, supervisor of music, assisted by Delbert Smoke, Andrew Rohrbaugh and Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Charles Burgess, Mrs. Rita Veness, Mrs. Charles Martin and Mrs. Vera Doss were enrolled as new members of the Hill and Dell Club.

Temperatures soared to a Florida - like 62 degrees in the district, with Christmas only a few days away.

A Bread Line

Gourmets claim that French bread is one of the wonders of civilization, but Parisians — alas — are eating less.

Consumption of slender baguettes, crusty golden croissants, plump brioches and other baked treats has dropped significantly in recent years. Sociologists speculate that improved living standards have permitted many Parisians to turn to more expensive foods.

Perfectionists say, however, that the problem is quality. They blame inferior new wheat species, farmers' use of synthetic fertilizers and mass production in French bakeries.

Despite connoisseurs' grumbling, bread remains a staple in Paris and most of the world, the National Geographic Society says. Recipes call for a tremendous range of ingredients — from layers of pine bark to soybeans.

LISBON — A Columbiana County vocational education steering committee held its first meeting Tuesday night at the county board of education office here.

Each of the 11 school districts and the county board were represented either by a board member or administrator.

Vernon A. Walrath, vocational supervisor for eight county school districts, reviewed the background of a proposed vocational center, under consideration since 1964.

Several new areas of study were suggested — diesel mechanics, commercial art and cabinet - making, since some 550 people are employed in furniture manufacture in the county.

Committee members discussed the additional cost of added courses, what millage will be involved and what are the procedural steps. Walrath said considerable attention was paid to the idea of leasing facilities in Salem and East Liverpool, and perhaps in Lisbon.

No date was set for the next meeting. Walrath said it will take about four weeks to assemble the material the committee wants.

Harry McConville represented the East Liverpool board of education. Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, president, attended as an observer.

Holiday Amnesty Frees Prisoners

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today signed orders that will restore freedom just before Christmas to a man and a woman serving County Jail terms imposed in his court.

The judge's orders will free Mrs. Laura R. Hanna of 648 Beaver Ave., Midland, who was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to a 30 - day term on Nov. 29 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. But the judge said he will retain Mrs. Hanna's driver's license. She was cited by police after her auto hit guardrails on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd."

The judge also will free William Compa of Riverview St., who is "laying out" a fine of $100 and costs imposed Nov. 10 on an intoxication charge filed under state law.

He said he will send the orders to County Jail at Lisbon so that the two will be released either Friday or Saturday.

Two Cars Involved In Lisbon Accident

LISBON — Southbound cars driven by Cheryl Sue Macuich, 23, of Pritchard Ave. and Richard Gween, 39, of W. Maple St. were involved in a minor accident Tuesday at 5:10 p. m. at the north side of the intersection of Market St. and Lincoln Way on the Square.

Police said the Macuich car was stopped for the traffic light and Gween hit it from behind. The only apparent damage was to the front of Gween's car. There was no arrest.

Owners Give OK On Mine Sealing Work

Permission has been obtained from two property owners for the sealing — by dynamite blast or bricking — of two clay mine entrances along the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd., where two Warren youths were lost for 30 hours last week.

Ohio Division of Mine officials said Mrs. Carrie Merrell of W. 6th St., owner, and Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Blazer of Kountz Ave., who are purchasing the tract which includes the mine entrances, have agreed to the sealing project.

John Kirkland of near Lisbon, area mine inspector, said the property has been posted against trespassing.

He said he will meet this week with an officer of the Ohio National Guard to discuss a proposal to seal the two mine entrances by dynamite blasts. If the officer does not think this feasible because of the proximity of the entrances to the highway and the possibility of rock fall from the steep hillside, the entrance is scheduled to be bricked up, Kirkland said.

Harry Reibold and Michael Sanfrey of Warren were found deep in the mine by rescue crews Thursday afternoon after they had been lost for some 30 hours.

'Spare Bats,' Urges Youngstown Resident

Everyone has a friend—even the bats!

William Telzrow, president of Wellsville Jaycees, said today he received a letter from a Youngstown resident concerned over the closing of mine entrances along Route 7 because the action might trap "thousands of unpaid mosquito eaters" inside.

Telzrow explained the man apparently read of a drive to have the mine closed after two boys were trapped inside last week.

The letter said the author hopes the action could be put off until spring when the bats leave; otherwise he proposes a six-inch hole be left in the front of the caves, where they are bricked, to allow them to get out.

The letter contended, "Bats eat thousands of mosquitoes, and do their work for nothing."

"I would like to help anyone interested in saving thousands of unpaid mosquito eaters," the letter concluded.

Telzrow said no action has been taken on the matter by Jaycees.

President Grover Cleveland was the only U.S. chief executive ever to serve two nonconsecutive terms, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Crash Hurts City Motorist

A city woman was injured slightly in a one - car mishap near Lisbon Tuesday, while two district men were unhurt in a collision near Salineville, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Mildred M. Rose, 71, of 1332 Riverview St. was headed north in a 1966 sedan when her car went off the right side of the highway about 1.2 miles south of Lisbon.

She lost control of the auto which came back onto the road, then went off and struck an embankment. There was moderate damage to the auto, and the driver was bruised, officers said.

Cars operated by Charles E. Rouse, 20, of Salineville RD 1 and Lawrence E. Strum, 44, of Chester RD 1 collided on Route 39 about 1.3 miles east of Salineville at 5:30 p. m.

The patrol said both drivers were headed north, Strum in front, and when the muffler fell off Rouse's 1961 coach and he turned to look, his car rammed the rear of Strum's 1967 station wagon.

Fine, Jail Term Set For Driving Violation

LISBON — Joseph Jeznis, 51, of Pittsburgh pleaded guilty Tuesday before Mayor Dean Stockman to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol and was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

Fined For Speeding

NEW CUMBERLAND — Squire John D. Herron said today he fined the following $10 and costs on speeding charges filed by West Virginia state police: Warren Dreussi, 58, of East Liverpool; Joseph E. Hudson, 37, of New Cumberland; Donald Pitko, 39, of Weirton, and Gary L. Kurkendall, 23, of Volga, W. Va.

Driver Jailed After Mishap

A 23-year-old man was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff as an aftermath of a traffic mishap on the parking lot at Westgate School.

Donald R. Karpa of 430 Morton St. pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without an operator's permit filed by police after a collision at 8:07 this morning that damaged his 1960 two-door sedan and a 1964 four-door sedan operated by Mrs. G. Patricia Kapp of 314 Grant St. Karpa also gave police an address in McKees Rocks, Allegheny County.

Karpa was charged by Patrolman K. J. Montgomery, who investigated the collision. Mrs. Kapp said she was parking her auto when it was hit on the right side by Karpa's.

Karpa told police he attempted to halt, but his brakes failed. The mishap damaged the right front door and fender of the Kapp car and the left front fender, grill and radiator of the Karpa auto. Questioned by the judge, Karpa said he once had a driver's license, but failed to renew it when it expired.

'Flats' Plaguing Bus On Beaver Local Run

Supt. Roy Cashdollar of the Beaver Local School District reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday a run of flat tires on a Beaver Local bus.

He said the bus has had five "flats" the last few days on a stretch of Cream Ridge-Bear Hollow Rd. near Route 7 at Williamsport.

Deputy Robert Wellington talked to Joe Geisse, the bus driver. The deputy said someone apparently is throwing roofing nails on the road, which is being used by trucks hauling from a strip mine.

Deputies said they have received no complaints from truckers.

Crash Hurts City Motorist

A city woman was injured slightly in a one - car mishap near Lisbon Tuesday, while two district men were unhurt in a collision near Salineville, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Mildred M. Rose, 71, of 1332 Riverview St. was headed north in a 1966 sedan when her car went off the right side of the highway about 1.2 miles south of Lisbon.

She lost control of the auto which came back onto the road, then went off and struck an embankment. There was moderate damage to the auto, and the driver was bruised, officers said.

Cars operated by Charles E. Rouse, 20, of Salineville RD 1 and Lawrence E. Strum, 44, of Chester RD 1 collided on Route 39 about 1.3 miles east of Salineville at 5:30 p. m.

The patrol said both drivers were headed north, Strum in front, and when the muffler fell off Rouse's 1961 coach and he turned to look, his car rammed the rear of Strum's 1967 station wagon.

A 23-year-old man was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff as an aftermath of a traffic mishap on the parking lot at Westgate School.

Donald R. Karpa of 430 Morton St. pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without an operator's permit filed by police after a collision at 8:07 this morning that damaged his 1960 two-door sedan and a 1964 four-door sedan operated by Mrs. G. Patricia Kapp of 314 Grant St. Karpa also gave police an address in McKees Rocks, Allegheny County.

Karpa was charged by Patrolman K. J. Montgomery, who investigated the collision. Mrs. Kapp said she was parking her auto when it was hit on the right side by Karpa's.

Plans Are Set For New Span At Salineville

LISBON — Precast, box-type concrete beams will be used in Columbiana County bridge construction next year for the first time, according to John Ursu, county engineer.

County commissioners Monday authorized him to advertise for bids for a new span to replace an old bridge over Nancy Run on E. Main St., Salineville.

Ursu said the existing abutments will be used for the new 26-foot-9-inch span with a 24-foot roadway and a 4-foot sidewalk on each side. The total length of the project will be 111 feet. A concrete deck will be poured over the composite beams. The estimated cost is $34,000.

The bridge is just a few feet east of the Route 39 junction. A footbridge will be maintained during construction. Vehicular traffic will be able to reach the area by way of an alley off Route 39.

Ursu said he expects work can begin in the spring and be completed by mid-summer. Terms of the contract will require the contractor to have the materials ready for use before the existing bridge is removed.

The Nancy Run Bridge is one of nine scheduled for replacement as quickly as possible. Ursu said the new bridge project will be in New Waterford near the new sewage treatment plant.

Three Cases Investigated

LISBON — The sheriff's department Tuesday investigated a burglary at Hanoverton, the theft of Christmas lights in Hillcrest and an attempted illegal entry at the Rogers feed mill.

Deputy Dave Brothers said someone broke into the Loudon Ford Garage service building at Hanoverton Monday night by forcing open a 12-by-20 - inch window and crawling through. Approximately $6 was taken from an open cash drawer.

Thieves hit Loudon's used car lot three blocks away the same night. Taken from used cars were a 825-by-14 four-ply tire on a black 14-inch wheel, a 695-by-14 whitewall tire on a white 14-inch wheel and a car radio.

Mrs. Richard Miller of Hillcrest reported someone took 16 bulbs from a string of Christmas lights in front of her home between 6 and 7 last night.

Robert Golloday of the feed mill said two employes found two panes of glass broken in a window at the mill Tuesday morning. Entry was impossible because a large pipe inside the building blocks the window opening. Deputy Robert Wellington investigated.

Man Okay After Being Buried In Well Six Hours

APEX, N.C. (AP) — John Lipscomb emerged unhurt from a well where he had been buried for six hours Tuesday. "Thank You, Lord Jesus. I was praying all the time," he said.

A smile wrinkled the mud-caked face of the 62-year-old laborer as he was hauled from the 20-foot well which had caved in while Lipscomb was at the bottom cleaning it.

Lipscomb was led about a dozen steps to a stretcher where he removed his jacket and lay down, his workman's helmet toppling from his head.

His wife grabbed the hat and clutching it to her breast said: "They say this old hat saved my man's life."

Rescue workers had said that the helmet protected Lipscomb from injury and allowed him to keep rock and clay away from his face so he could breathe.

Lipscomb was working in the well alone when the walls caved in, burying him under about five feet of bricks and mud.

Fire Officials Probe WVU Hospital Blaze

MORGANTOWN — Fire officials are investigating a blaze in the 9-story West Virginia University Hospital which destroyed the top floor and forced the temporary evacuation of 300 patients.

Initial reports showed no cause for the fire which began on a floor housing hospital equipment and electrical machinery Tuesday night.

No one was injured and the patients were returned to their rooms two hours after the alarm was sounded.

Hospital officials say the precaution was taken as smoke meandered through the entire building even though the fire itself was confined to the ninth floor.

Latest Ruling Adds To Snarl In Home Rift

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals has overruled a state official's motion to quash service of summons on him in Columbiana County Home litigation.

The attorney general's office filed the motion early last fall on behalf of Wayne Ward, director of the Department of State Personnel.

When the motion was before the Appellate Court here Dec. 4, a representative of the attorney general said he would appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court if the motion were overruled.

This would mean further delay in hearing on its merits the mandamus action in the County Home case.

Ward contended his office is in Columbus and the mandamus action could not properly be brought against him in Columbiana County.

Robert W. and Gladys M. Boyce, acting superintendent and matron at the County Home since October 1965, filed the action in the Appellate Court Aug. 2 after the county commissioners appointed Joseph and Rosemond Mattevi of Lisbon RD 4 to the County Home posts, effective Aug. 15.

The court stayed the appointments until the case is decided.

It was the Department of State Personnel which conducted the competitive civil service examinations from which applicants for the home posts were certified.

Man Sent To Jail In Check Charge

A man identified as Robert William Clark of 1065 Ephriam St. was sentenced to a 90-day term in County Jail when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he cashed a fraudulent $50 check Dec. 9 at Magill's Grocery on E. 3rd St.

Clark was named in an affidavit filed by Capt. Kenneth H. Mooney and Patrolman William A. Devon, alleging that he presented the Potters Bank & Trust Co. check to Mrs. Mary Jane Magill, knowing that he did not have sufficient funds on deposit at the bank.

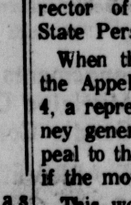

Devon testified that Clark has issued five other fraudulent checks in the last few weeks. The charge on which Clark was sentenced was a misdemeanor under Ohio law.

The judge dismissed another affidavit in which Clark was charged with failure to support three minor children. It dated back to December 1966. Authorities said his wife, Mrs. Shirley Clark, who signed the affidavit, now resides in California.

The famed Alaska Highway is 1,523 miles long.

A man identified as Robert William Clark of 1065 Ephriam St. was sentenced to a 90-day term in County Jail when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he cashed a fraudulent $50 check Dec. 9 at Magill's Grocery on E. 3rd St.

Clark was named in an affidavit filed by Capt. Kenneth H. Mooney and Patrolman William A. Devon, alleging that he presented the Potters Bank & Trust Co. check to Mrs. Mary Jane Magill, knowing that he did not have sufficient funds on deposit at the bank.

Devon testified that Clark has issued five other fraudulent checks in the last few weeks. The charge on which Clark was sentenced was a misdemeanor under Ohio law.

The judge dismissed another affidavit in which Clark was charged with failure to support three minor children. It dated back to December 1966. Authorities said his wife, Mrs. Shirley Clark, who signed the affidavit, now resides in California.

The famed Alaska Highway is 1,523 miles long.

Wellsville Police Cruiser Badly Damaged In Wreck

Foggy conditions Tuesday were blamed for three accidents in the Wellsville area, one of which caused severe damage to a Wellsville police cruiser.

Wellsville police were called at 9:25 a. m. to investigate an accident supposedly within the city limits. The accident actually occurred outside of Wellsville near the Columbiana - Jefferson County line on Route 7.

Patrolman Edwin James stopped the cruiser and turned on all warning lights and was helping to direct traffic when a vehicle, driven by Bernard J. Kane, 35, of 904 Loretta Ave., Toronto, struck the cruiser, causing almost total damage.

James escaped serious injury, but suffered a bruised knee, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville, which investigated.

Kane was cited for excessive speed for the conditions.

Prior to that accident, Wellsville police cited a Lisbon RD 3 woman for reckless operation in an accident at 8:45 a. m.

A vehicle driven by Etta Thompson, 36, ran into a truck which was parked along the curb in the city limits near the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. The driver of the truck was Edgar George of Hillsville, Pa.

Two Richmond women suffered whiplash neck injuries in another accident Tuesday morning at 10:20 near the Columbiana-Jefferson line.

Genevive Stokley, driver of the car and Gertrude Crook were injured when the vehicle in which they were riding was struck by a car driven by Howard Householder, 25, of Hammondsville.

According to the patrol, Householder, traveling in the same direction, was coming from behind and swerved to the left but struck the Stokley vehicle. Householder was charged for excessive speed for the conditions.

A 57-year-old Wellsville man was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol in one of two accidents early this morning in Wellsville.

Russell Bachus, of 341 Commerce St. was arrested today at 3 a. m. following an accident involving three cars in a chain reaction mishap.

The vehicle driven by Bachus struck a parked car owned by John Stansbury of 314 18th St., which in turn hit another parked car owned by Jack Patterson of 316 18th St.

Stansbury's car suffered heavy damage to the front and rear while Patterson's vehicle was damaged in the rear.

Eunice Parker of Pleasant Valley Rd., near Wellsville, was charged with driving left of center when her car hit an auto driven by Hazel Morrison, 41, of 310½ Main St., Wellsville, today at 12:11 a. m. The accident occurred on Main St.

In an accident Tuesday at 7:10 a. m., a car driven by Thurl Wickham, 27, of Irondale, who was backing out of a driveway, was struck by a vehicle operated by Donald Pytash, 16, of Toronto RD 2. Damage was heavy to Wickham's car.

Passengers in Pytash's car, Mike Patrick and Larry Snyder, suffered minor injuries.

of 1004 St. Clair Ave., who is scheduled for a hearing Dec. 26 at 9 a.m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin in connection with the same entry.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the prosecutor, brought out in direct examination of Matheny that he was a juvenile at the time of the alleged burglary. Matheny testified that he became 18 on Monday.

East Liverpool police said Finlay also is wanted in Hancock County on a charge of attempted burglary the same night at the Win Place and Show Club in the Hilltop area near Chester.

Matheny testified this morning that he accompanied Wolfe and Finlay in the incident last Thursday, but did not enter the station.

He said the three came to East Liverpool "from West Virginia" about 3 a. m. in a car driven by Finlay. He said Finlay drove to East End and parked in an alley at the rear of the service station.

Finlay got out of the car and attempted to open a window at the rear of the station, but was unsuccessful, Matheny testified. Then Wolfe got out of the car and opened the window and both he and Finlay entered the station, Matheny said. He said he remained in the car throughout, but saw the two enter the station through the window and emerge the same way.

SALEM — Lowell N. Conrad, 34, of Alliance pleaded not guilty to a charge of first degree murder this morning in Columbiana County Northwest Court here.

Conrad was represented by Russell Mock of Youngstown, who requested a preliminary hearing. Judge Edward Greenamyer set it for 10 a. m. Dec. 29 and Conrad was returned to the County jail. Law does not permit a guilty plea at arraignment on a first degree murder charge.

Conrad is accused of shooting his estranged wife, Chrystal Ann, 34, the morning of Dec. 10.

Ex-Hancock Area Resident Leaves Letters To Bethany

BETHANY, W. Va. — A collection of personal letters with an estimated value of more than $20,000 has been given to the Bethany College library by the widow of the late John Marshall, national public affairs leader and trustee of the college.

A native of New Cumberland, Marshall practiced law in Parkersburg and Washington, D. C. He served as president of the Institute of Fiscal and Political Education.

Announcement was made jointly by John J. Clopine, professor of library science and director of the Thomas W. Phillips Memorial Library at Bethany, and Mrs. John Marshall of Washington, D.C.

"The collection of 70 letters is one of the most valuable gifts ever received by our library," Clopine said.

The collection, which is on display in the Campbell Room of the Bethany library, includes letters from four presidents: Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower.

The list of letter writers includes Richard Nixon, Dean Acheson, Dwight Morrow, Robert Taft, William Fullbright, Frank Kellogg, Barry Goldwater, Ronald Reagan, J. Edgar Hoover. James Couzzens, and Fred Vinson.

Most of the letters were written on the basis of personal friendships which began when Marshall was assistant attorney general of the United States under Calvin Coolidge from 1925-29.

Marshall, who was graduated from Bethany in 1902, received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from his alma mater in 1936. He served as a trustee of Bethany from 1924 until his death in February 1966.

Marshall's traditions at Bethany dated back to the school's founding in 1840. His father, Oliver Marshall, of New Cumberland, was a trustee during 1883-1935, and Marshall's grandfather, Campbell Tarr, of Wellsburg, W. Va. was a trustee during 1840-1860.

Vocational System Outlined For City's Education Council

Various aspects of planned vocation training in the new East Liverpool High School were aired at a meeting of the Education Development Council Tuesday night.

Fourteen attended the meeting at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Parish Hall, including Samuel Brown, board of education member; Thomas Rodfong and George Ward, members-elect; Supt. Paul Blair and Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini.

In a question period after the business session, Pelini said it is hoped there will be six units of vocation training in the new high school. He said the main problem involves obtaining qualified instructors for the program, there being a shortage throughout the nation.

Pelini said the state would authorize up to 18 to 20 units, but the city district will probably have to select subjects for which instructors can be obtained. He listed potential subjects such as auto mechanics, basic electricity, business office training, machine trades, and others.

Pelini also pointed out that with the use of the Kent State University Center here, the percentage of high school graduates obtaining some type of higher education has reached 47 per cent, compared to 33 and 35 per cent before.

Jackman Vodrey, president, expressed disappointment about the low attendance, pointing out 50 organizations have selected representatives to the EDC. He said the holiday season and the stores being open probably contributed to the attendance situation.

Vodrey said organizations belonging to EDC will be requested to contribute $5 or less toward postage and other materials required to keep members informed.

Jack Ludwig, chairman of the administration committee, asked other committees to advise him of their meetings so he can have representatives attend.

Nelson Hagerty, chairman of the finance committee, reminded members a 12-mill levy will be up for renewal next year.

Robert Harris of the public relations committee discussed the availability of federal funds for school projects, and said he hoped further workable programs could be prepared to take advantage of such funds as available under Title Three. He said he needs additional members on his committee.

Ben Weber and Mary Ruth Bebout were named to obtain a successor to Sidney Porter who has resigned from the physical facilities committee chairman post because of the press of business.

Beaver Man To Seek U.S. Senate Post

ALIQUIPPA, Pa. (AP) — A general contractor formally announced today he will run for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Harold J. Vaughan, 49, who lost a four-way race for the GOP nomination for governor in 1958, said he plans an extensive campaign throughout the state. He has never held public office.

Vaughan had indicated earlier this month that he would run, but described today's announcement as his formal entry into the race.

Vaughan said the only other announced Republican candidate Congressman Richard Schweiker of Montgomery County, could best serve the country by remaining a congressman.

"We need to hold every seat we can in order to preserve the two-party system and avoid another rubber stamp disaster," Vaughan said.

U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Philadelphia Democrat, has already announced he will seek reelection next year. He's the only Democrat formally in the race so far.

4. South Vietnam must be governed on the basis of a constitutional "one man-one vote" agreement, which the President said an overwhelming majority of her people want.

5. Informal discussions between President Thieu and NLF representatives could produce good results.

The President was interviewed in his White House office Monday morning by correspondents from the three major networks, which trimmed his remarks to fit the one-hour program.

Chatting earnestly and leaning forward occasionally in his rocking chair as he stressed a point, Johnson also made these observations:

—"I don't know what the effect of the Kennedy-McCarthy movement is having in the country" but "I do know of the interest of both of them in the presidency and the ambition of both of them—I see that reflected from time to time."

A spokesman for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said, "It seemed a very curious way for the President to promote party unity."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, an avowed candidate for next year's Democratic presidential nomination, could not be reached immediately for comment.

4. South Vietnam must be governed on the basis of a constitutional "one man-one vote" agreement, which the President said an overwhelming majority of her people want.

5. Informal discussions between President Thieu and NLF representatives could produce good results.

The President was interviewed in his White House office Monday morning by correspondents from the three major networks, which trimmed his remarks to fit the one-hour program.

Chatting earnestly and leaning forward occasionally in his rocking chair as he stressed a point, Johnson also made these observations:

—"I don't know what the effect of the Kennedy-McCarthy movement is having in the country" but "I do know of the interest of both of them in the presidency and the ambition of both of them—I see that reflected from time to time."

A spokesman for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said, "It seemed a very curious way for the President to promote party unity."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, an avowed candidate for next year's Democratic presidential nomination, could not be reached immediately for comment.

Gas Company Plans New Computer Estimate Plan

A new system of computerized billing will enable the Ohio Valley Gas Co. to read meters of East Liverpool area customers on alternate months, but continue to send monthly bills, officials announced today.

Harold Sneddon, manager, said the new plan, to go into effect in May 1968, will mean that every second month's gas bill will be individually calculated on electronic computers.

He explained the firm has developed a formula for determining customer use as a result of calculation and measurement of bills and consumption for the past 1½ years.

"Actually, Ohio Valley Gas has sent calculated bills to customers for several years in months when it has been impossible to gain access to meters," Sneddon said.

"Today, gas rates for Ohio homes are among the lowest in the nation, and we want to keep them that way," he pointed out. "The new bi-monthly meter reading program eventually will save Ohio Valley Gas and Columbia Gas of Ohio an estimated half million dollars a year in operating costs throughout the companies' distribution area in Ohio. It is another in a series of programs adopted by the gas companies to help hold the line against rising costs."

In adopting this procedure, Ohio Valley Gas joins many other public service companies throughout Ohio and the United States which have adopted similar bi-monthly and quarterly meter reading plans. Currently about nine million gas customers throughout the country have their meters read bi-monthly.

Unaffected by the new system will be the bills received by the thousands of customers who are on the gas companies' budget payment plan which spreads gas service costs evenly over the entire year.

"The new computation will use each customer's record of actual gas usage over the 13 previous months, adjusted by the effect of warmer or colder weather conditions and the number of days in the billing period. Each customer's account will be verified automatically the following month by an actual meter reading," Sneddon said.

He said that the new program will include residential and small commercial customers and will be gradually adopted throughout the 61 - county operating area in Ohio served by Ohio Valley Gas and Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., during 1968 and 1969. Both companies are part of the Columbia Gas System.

LISBON — Four new cases of tuberculosis were reported by the Columbiana County Tuberculosis Control Clinic in its November summary which Dr. M. K. Singer, medical director, submitted to the board of trustees Monday.

He said three patients were placed in hospitals last month and six were placed on medication, bringing to 128 the number on drug therapy at home.

Of these, 43 are in the general health district — all the county outside the four cities: 42 in East Liverpool, 25 in Salem, 12 in Wellsville, and 6 in East Palestine.

The report lists 112 chest X-rays, 144 Mantoux tuberculin tests, 2,771 Heaf tuberculin tests, 138 nursing visits and three consultations with the medical director.

One patient was discharged from a hospital last month with medical advice. There were eight county TB patients in hospitals as of Nov. 30, four in veterans' hospitals and four in the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Columbus. Four are from the General Health District and four from East Liverpool.

County Gets $27,183 In Fund Distribution

Columbiana County received $27,183 in public assistance subsidy payments distributed to 76 counties in Ohio by the office of State Auditor Roger Cloud.

The payments statewide passed the $26 million mark during the first six months of the fiscal year with the December distribution of $6,292,703.

The actual figure, Cloud said, was $26,350,325, with the distribution made out of legislative appropriations of $54,851,735 for the 1968 fiscal year.

These funds are turned over to the respective county auditors to meet the administrative costs of the welfare programs and the state's share of the general relief program.

Police Investigation Solves Puzzle Of 'Traveling Radio'

If the fictional Perry Mason had been involved, Erle Stanley Gardner might have given the title, "The Case of the Traveling Radio," to a bizarre set of facts turned up Tuesday night and early today in what started out as an attempted theft of Christmas lights at a Beechwood home.

Police received a report at 11:48 p. m. Tuesday that a prowler had attempted to steal five holiday light bulbs at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown of 151 Vernia St. Startled by Mrs. Brown, the would-be thief had dropped two of the light bulbs — and a transistor radio.

Officers found the name "Bill Jarrett" on the flap of the radio cover and traced it to the Jerretts at 1004 Lisbon St. But Mrs. Jerrett said she and her husband had given a radio with her husband's name on it to Mrs. Mary Jones of 1628½ St. George St.

Mrs. Jerrett notified Mrs. Jones of recovery of the radio. Officers took Mrs. Jones to the Brown's home, where she identified the radio. She did not know when the radio had been taken from her home.

Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. and Patrolman Clyde Dillon made the investigation, which led from Beechwood to West End to East End and back to Beechwood.

FIVE MORE cases of theft and vandalism were reported Tuesday afternoon and night.

Eleven snow tread tires owned by Mike Turk, Inc., were stolen from the former Woomer Bros. Lumber Co. building in a burglary discovered Tuesday, officers said. The intruder may have entered through a door on the east side, police said. The thief forced another door on a small room to remove the tires.

William Echols of 809 Lisbon St. reported a would-be burglar was frightened away after he made an unsuccessful attempt to enter Echols' home about 9:46 p. m. yesterday.

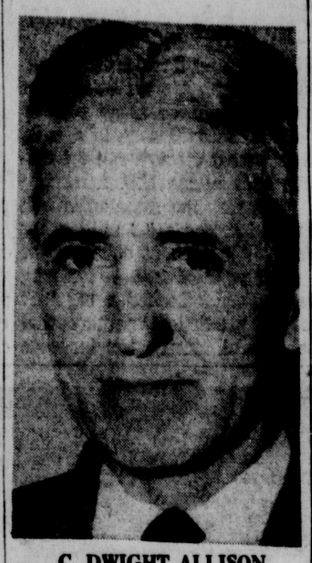

Echols said he was asleep when he heard a noise at a rear window. Investigating, he found someone was attempting to pull the screen from the window. Unsuccessful in the first attempt, the intruder then tried to pick the lock on the back door, Echols said. Echols opened the door and the unidentified person ran north toward W. 9th St. He described the prowler as a "tall, thin" male.

HARRY RECKNER of Substation told police a 7-inch power saw was stolen from his car while it was parked on E. 6th St. Tuesday night.

Charles Moore of 944 St. George St. told officers Tuesday night a fence at the rear of his property was damaged by a vandal Monday night or Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Blanche Bailey of 848 Fairview St. told officers a vandal hurled a jelly jar through a 36-x-30-inch window at her home about 7 p. m. Tuesday. The property is owned by Harley Davis, police said.

New Death Dates Set For 2; Court To Review 2 Appeals

COLUMXUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court set new death dates today for two condemned slayers and agreed to review the appeals of two others.

Aides said it was the first time in modern memory that the court has acted on four first-degree murder appeals at the same time.

Dates for death in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair were:

Jan. 26 for Ray Arnold Pemberton, 22, for the fatal stabbing of Paul Morlan in a $17 Akron robbery July 29, 1966. Pemberton complained in his appeal that automatic data processing equipment was used in selection of grand and petit juries which considered his case.

Feb. 9 for Robert LeRoy Pruett, 28, Conneaut, for the rape murder of Susan Osborne, Conneaut High school girl, Sept. 14, 1964. Her nude body was found five days later in a wooded area south of Lake Road near Lake Erie.

The high court agreed to review appeals by:

Lee Arthur Henley, 22, Cincinnati garbage truck driver, convicted in the fatal shooting of Peter Mazes, a supermarket employe, for refusing to sell him high power beer June 27, 1964.

Kenneth White, 25, Cleveland, in the robbery death of taxi driver Ernest Williams, father of five, Oct. 20, 1964.

An accomplice, Leon Samuels, 24, also charged in the Williams slaying, pleaded guilty to second-degree murder and was sentenced to life improsonment.

Blushing is the result of excitement. It is caused by the stimulation of certain nerves called vasodilators. These make the tiny blood vessels in the face and neck expand and thus permit more blood to flow through them.

Police Investigation Solves Puzzle Of 'Traveling Radio'

If the fictional Perry Mason had been involved, Erle Stanley Gardner might have given the title, "The Case of the Traveling Radio," to a bizarre set of facts turned up Tuesday night and early today in what started out as an attempted theft of Christmas lights at a Beechwood home.

Police received a report at 11:48 p. m. Tuesday that a prowler had attempted to steal five holiday light bulbs at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown of 151 Vernia St. Startled by Mrs. Brown, the would-be thief had dropped two of the light bulbs — and a transistor radio.

Officers found the name "Bill Jarrett" on the flap of the radio cover and traced it to the Jerretts at 1004 Lisbon St. But Mrs. Jerrett said she and her husband had given a radio with her husband's name on it to Mrs. Mary Jones of 1628½ St. George St.

Mrs. Jerrett notified Mrs. Jones of recovery of the radio. Officers took Mrs. Jones to the Brown's home, where she identified the radio. She did not know when the radio had been taken from her home.

Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. and Patrolman Clyde Dillon made the investigation, which led from Beechwood to West End to East End and back to Beechwood.

—:—

FIVE MORE cases of theft and vandalism were reported Tuesday afternoon and night.

Eleven snow tread tires owned by Mike Turk, Inc., were stolen from the former Woomer Bros. Lumber Co. building in a burglary discovered Tuesday, officers said. Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: You know those cute little feather birds and butterflies we buy to put around the house on our philodendron and ivy plants?

They are the most natural looking things I ever saw and I have about ten of them. Both inside the house and outside on a covered patio.

Well, after a few months (especially if they are kept outside) they begin to fade. They get LOADED with dust, moisture and smoke off the patio grill.

Inside they catch the carbon and fumes just like the stuff that gathers on your coffee table and windows from day to day . . .

So, guess what I did?

When I bought two new ones recently, as soon as I removed them from the plastic wrappers I put hair spray on all those pretty soft feathers. It didn't hurt the feathers one bit. In fact you couldn't really tell the difference after it dried.

Two months later I compare the sprayed and unsprayed ones and what a difference there was. When the sprayed ones gather dust, I just blow it off.

One little ole red bird was so awful and old I just took my fizz spray can of red paint and let him have it "full blast." After he dried, I used a felt marker to give him back his eyes, feet and beak . . .

So spray them while they are new. If yours are past that stage, instead of throwing them away, paint them!

HELOISE.

-:-

P.S. (I also put those butterflies on my glass sliding doors at EYE LEVEL to keep my friends from walking right through the doors. Works, too.)

DEAR HELOISE: Here's something I found that makes cleaning the interior of our car easier.

After washing the rubber floor mats, I let them dry thoroughly. Then put a thin coat of liquid floor wax on them and rub it off. The mud and dust won't stick to the wax.

Next cleaning day I just use a damp cloth. You'll be surprised how nice the mats stay.

MRS. BETTY HESS.

DEAR HELOISE: Where would we be if our husbands were not around every time we needed a plumber, carpenter, electrician or fix-it man?

I'm going right now and give my hubby a great big kiss. How about you?

READER.

-:-

You lucky gal. How'd you get him to fix it? Do let us know your method. There are thousands of us who are waiting for your secret!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I am a housemother in a children's home, and care for a dozen children from two to five years of age.

When teaching the older ones how to tie their shoes, I made a practice show. I cut two different colored shoe laces in half and tied the cut ends of the two colors together after threading them through he bottom eyelets of an old shoe.

The different colors help the children learn to lace and tie as they can see where each goes. It's much cheaper than buying a toy lacing shoe and really works.

The children love it, too.

BETTY DANIELS.

DEAR HELOISE: The rings we take off and put most any place when washing dishes can easily be brushed off, lost or stepped on and ruined.

So why not hang them on a small cup hook that has been screwed inside a cabinet door, or some other convenient place near the sink.

Then your rings are safe and they will stay there until you're through with those dishes.

'68 Car Sales Seen Topping Nine Million

DETROIT (AP) — The top four men in the auto industry agreed Tuesday that new car sales in 1968 would top the nine million mark.

Yearend predictions of the four board chairmen-Henry Ford II of Ford Motor Co.; James M. Roche of General Motors; Lynn A. Townsend of Chrysler and Roy D. Chapin Jr. of American Motors — followed pretty much the same pattern.

They said this year's sales would wind up at about 8.4 million cars in the U.S. market.

Ford was the most optimistic as he foresaw a 9.3 million car year — just about equal to the record year of 1965 — for next year. Ford attached a big "if" to his prediction, namely that no federal income tax increase would be put into effect by early January.

Roche and Townsend predicted sales would be over nine million but neither would get any more specific. Chapin settled on a forecast of a 9.1 to 9.2 million car sales year.

Chapin predicted his firm — American Motors — would up its sales to 300,000 next year compared with the 240,000 sales it chalked up in 1967. AMC officials said previously that 300,000 was the breakeven point in their auto operations.

With trucks and imports included, Roche anticipates total sales in the U.S. next year will amount to 10.7 million cars and trucks, which would be the highest total ever.

Such a development, he said, will depend on several things, including concern about Vietnam and the cost of the war, "questions of government expenditures, taxes and fiscal policy."

'68 Car Sales Seen Topping Nine Million

DETROIT (AP) — The top four men in the auto industry agreed Tuesday that new car sales in 1968 would top the nine million mark.

Yearend predictions of the four board chairmen-Henry Ford II of Ford Motor Co.; James M. Roche of General Motors; Lynn A. Townsend of Chrysler and Roy D. Chapin Jr. of American Motors — followed pretty much the same pattern.

They said this year's sales would wind up at about 8.4 million cars in the U.S. market.

Ford was the most optimistic as he foresaw a 9.3 million car year — just about equal to the record year of 1965 — for next year. Ford attached a big "if" to his prediction, namely that no federal income tax increase would be put into effect by early January.

Roche and Townsend predicted sales would be over nine million but neither would get any more specific. Chapin settled on a forecast of a 9.1 to 9.2 million car sales year.

Chapin predicted his firm — American Motors — would up its sales to 300,000 next year compared with the 240,000 sales it chalked up in 1967. AMC officials said previously that 300,000 was the breakeven point in their auto operations.

With trucks and imports included, Roche anticipates total sales in the U.S. next year will amount to 10.7 million cars and trucks, which would be the highest total ever.

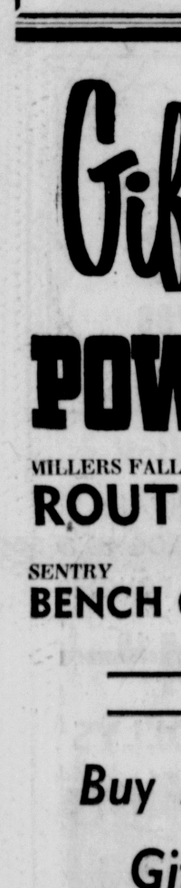

Such a development, he said, will depend on several things, including concern about Vietnam and the cost of the war, "questions of government expenditures, taxes and fiscal policy,"

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is for the thousands, maybe millions, of people in the country who should sit down and write to a mother, father, sister, brother, grandmother or good friend. Yet they have put it off because they think they have nothing of interest to say.

Modern life pulls families apart. It also makes heavy demands on our time and energy. We all know it is not easy to write a gem of a letter. Moreover, when most of us review the week's activites they seem too dull to recount.

Please take my word for it, friends, they won't be dull to the person you are writing to. Just receiving a letter gives most folks a lift. Almost anything you say in a letter will be of interest if the person cares about you.

So don't wait for something spectacular to happen. Sit down today and write that letter you've been putting off. You'll feel good about it and you'll make someone awfully happy. —T.M.M.

-:-

Dear T.M.M.: We all need an occasional nudge to do the things we know we should do. Thank you for this gentle prodding.

The Plot Thickens

Dear Ann: An aunt and uncle who raised my brother and me announced at dinner last night that they have purchased 12 burial plots "so we can all rest together."

The plots are for my aunt and uncle, myself, my husband, our two children, my brother, his wife and their two children, and my grandparents whose remains my aunt and uncle plan to have moved.

I said nothing when the announcement was made but later my husband and I talked it over and decided we don't want to obligate ourselves in this way.

First of all, we feel that Aunt and Uncle should not have made such far-reaching plans for our children who are teen-agers. They may want to be buried with their mates (assuming they marry) or they may want to be cremated and not buried at all.

Furthermore, my brother's wife's family might have some objections. I did not discuss this with her, but I could see from the expression on her face that she wasn't too pleased with the idea either.

Aunt and Uncle have been wonderful to us and we don't want to hurt their feelings. Please tell us what to do. — TOO MUCH TOGETHERNESS.

Dear Too Much: It was presumptuous of Aunt and Uncle to expect you to accept their ground rules, if you will pardon the expression. The chances are good that they will predecease you, in which case you have plenty of time to decide what you want to do. In the meantime, say "Thank you" and make no commitment.

Dear Ann: I'm a young girl with terrible-looking legs. It's not that they are too fat or too thin; in fact, they are shaped raher well. The problem is that my legs are all blotchy from poison ivy and poison oak. I also have an ugly scar were I cut myself on a milk bottle when I was very young.

The textured stockings and high boots are a blessing, but eventually they will go out of style and then what will I do? Do you know of a solution?— LOOKING AHEAD AND DREADING IT.

-:-

Dear Looking: If your legs are as unsightly as you say, you should see a physician about a procedure called abrasive planing. The outer layer of skin can be removed by a sanding process. This operation has proved highly successful in a great many cases.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tailoring Class To Be Conducted

LISBON — Tailoring classes will be conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service in several locations throughout Columbiana and Mahoning counties early in 1968.

Mrs. Ann Riedel, Columbiana County extension agent for home economics, said class sites will be determined by the number of enrollments from various areas. Each class will meet four to six times, probably once a week.

During the class, each student will construct a tailored garment — one made of wool with tailored lapels and collar and which requires shaping by padding, stitches, pressing and shrinking.

Mrs. Riedel said enrollees should have completed the advanced clothing construction (or better dress) class taught last year, or have had considerable sewing experience.

A small charge will be made to cover hall rent and other expenses. Enrollments will be accepted on a first-come basis since classes will be limited in size. Tentative enrollments are needed now so some classes can begin early in January, Mrs. Riedel said. Other classes will start later.

Women interested may enroll by sending name, address and phone number to Ann Riedel, 113 S. Market St., Lisbon.

Holiday Closings Set By BUC For Monday, Jan. 1

The East Liverpool office of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation will be closed Monday in observance of Christmas. Charles Boso, manager, said.

BUC offices all over Ohio will be closed for the holiday. The offices also will be closed Jan. 1 for New Year's Day.

Both the claims section and employment section will be closed for the holidays, Boso explained. All claimants who would normally report Monday will report on Tuesday for the next two weeks only.

Claimants were reminded they are to report on their assigned days in order to avoid any question of their availability.

Boso also said the name of the bureau will be changed to the "Bureau of Employment Services" Jan. 1.

He explained the new name for both the claims and employment services is more representative of the bureau's many phases of service.

Budget Adopted

GEORGETOWN — A 1968 budget of $2,317.69 was adopted by Council during a special meeting Monday night at the borough building. Curtis Finley, president, said the reorganization meeting will be held Jan. 8.

E. 5th St. Crash Damages 2 Cars

Two cars were damaged in a collision Tuesday at 2:50 p.m. on E. 5th St. at College St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1967 two-door driven by Olaf M. Chapman, 60, of 713 Alton St. and a 1964 two - door compact operated by Charles Mechling, 55, of 1103 2nd Ave., New Cumberland.

Chapman told police he was driving west on E. 5th St. when Mechling pulled around a truck on College St. and hit the Chapman car in the side. Mechling reported he was halted behind a truck, whose driver signalled the way was clear to pull off College St. onto E. 5th St.

Meanwhile, Robert C. Landfried of 1264 Pennsylvania Ave. told police the left rear fender and bumper of his 1965 two-door sedan were damaged by a hit - skip vehicle while parked on a metered lot at City Hall between noon and 4:30 p. m. Tuesday.

$5,000 Minimum Salary Eyed For W. Va. Teachers

CHARLESTON — A $5,000 minimum annual salary for West Virginia teachers with degrees is among a $30 million education package which State School Supt. Rex Smith said he plans to submit to the 1968 legislature.

Also included in the proposal are $1 million to continue the Comprehensive Education Progran (CEP); $5 million for county public kindergartens; 15 additional vocational — technical schools; and establishment of a school building authority to help counties with construction.

Smith also said Tuesday that lack of leadership hinders efforts to improve small rural schools. He explained that 20 per cent of the county superintendents quit every year.

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: The Pigwidgen says he will lift the curse if Claus can eat more pig than he. The Pigwidgen eats five except the bones, but Claus secretly throws his five pigs in the fire which eats bones and all.

CHAPTER 15

The Pigwidgen could scarcely believe it. While he had eaten five roast pigs leaving only the bones, Claus had managed his five roasts bones, tails and all.

"I have won the contest," said Claus. "You must now lift the curse."

"No, no," cried the Pigwidgen. "There must be a drinking contest. If you can drink more than I, perhaps I will lift the curse."

He rushed out to the great hall and ordered the pygmies to bring two urns of chocolate milk. The urns were so large and so heavy it took 15 pygmies to carry each one. They set them on a cloth - covered table and went off to get the milk.

—:—

WHILE THEY were gone Claus said, "Before we begin I would like to step outside for a breath of air."

"By all means," agreed the Pigwidgen. "Take your time."

Claus went out with Tweedleknees. He told the elf that it was the fire and not he that ate up all the roast pigs. "But how can I drink so large an urn of milk!" he groaned.

"Drink what you can and do not worry," said the elf. "I shall use my wits as you advised and I am sure I will think of something."

The elf scurried back to the castle and left Claus walking gloomily by the lake. Meanwhile, the Pigwidgen has been busy. While Claus was away the little creature secretly inserted seven hot water bottles beneath his shirt. Then he called for the contest to begin.

Claus sat at one end of the clothcovered table and the Pigwidgen sat at the other end. Patrick Tweedleknees was nowhere to be seen.

"Where could he be?" wondered Claus anxiously. "If ever wits were needed it is now!" He thought he might somehow dump out his milk if only the elf were there to distract the Pigwidgen's attention.

—:—

THE TWO great urns were filled with foaming chocolate milk. They were too heavy and brimming to lift from the table. The only way to drink was through large rubber straws.

"Begin!" ordered the Pigwidgen.

Once more Claus looked around for Tweedleknees. The elf was gone. There was nothing for it but to drink. He bent over his urn and sucked desperately on his straw. He drank and drank and drank. Slowly the milk went down until half the urn was empty.

Try as he would Claus could not swallow another drop. He sank back in his chair and gasped, "I have done!"

The Pigwidgen bent over his own urn and made mighty sucking noises. Actually the end of his straw led to the seven hot water bottles under his shirt and not to his mouth at all.

—:—

THE MILK flowed from the urn until all the hot water bottles were full, but when the Pigwidgen looked up the urn was still full. The Pigwidgen blinked in surprise. He began to drink the milk himself. He sucked and he huffed and he puffed and he puffed and he swallowed and he gasped and still the urn was full.

The Pigwidgen's face turned blue and his stomach swelled. Suddenly there was an awful explosion. The seven hot water bottles burst open and spattered chocolate milk all over the table.

The Pigwidgen stared popeyed at his urn still brimming with milk. Claus leaped to his feet crying, "I have won!"

UN Assembly Recesses For Three Months

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly recessed for about three months early today after a session overshadowed by two crises it never came to grips with—the Middle East and Vietnam.

The 123-nation assembly also failed to conclude a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons because the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva couldn't nail down all points at issue. But the assembly hoped to have a treaty waiting for it in the spring.

The final day was highlighted by a bright note. The assembly gave unanimous approval to a treaty providing for the rescue and safe return of astronauts forced to land on foreign soil.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg called the vote "an historic action" and one of the major achievements of the assembly. Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko said the agreement would "have great importance in connection with speedy progress in space technology."

The Middle East was on the assembly agenda, but there was no debate because the Security Council was dealing with the issue. But the Arab-Israeli conflict so distracted delegates that the assembly had to suspend virtually all business until the council finally agreed on a resolution.

Arab members are expected to press for an assembly airing of the Middle East dispute next spring after Secretary-General U Thant receives a report from his special envoy in the area, Gunnar Jarring of Sweden.

The Vietnam war was not on the docket, but it dominated the general policy debate and cropped up in the assembly's main committees during exchanges on disarmament, aggression and other issues.

During the session, the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, got Romania to circulate its new political program to all U.N. members. It was generally viewed as Communist propaganda, but a few delegates speculated that it might be some sort of a feeler.

This was the first assembly to elect a Communist president. Most Western delegates felt that Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manascu, who got the job, served efficiently and showed no bias.

Romney Believes Political Solution Possible For War

MOSCOW (AP) — Gov. George Romney said today his tour of five European capitals, including a long talk with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, "has encouraged me to believe in the possibility of finding a political solution" for the Vietnam war.

"A satisfactory solution for Vietnam must be found in not purely military but also political means," Romney said as he left Moscow for Israel.

"Broadly speaking, on my European trip I found uncertainty and concern about our foreign policy," said Romney, who has visited Warsaw, Paris, Bonn and London, as well as Moscow.

"In none of my talks," Romney said, "has there been any criticism on my part of American policy in Vietnam.

"I have stressed in Europe that the 1968 elections will not result in the lessening of our determination to find a Vietnam solution satisfactory to both sides."

The governor added that there will be "no abandonment of Vietnam, no withdrawal."

Romney said Kosygin subordinated all other world problems to Vietnam when they talked for two hours and 10 minutes Tuesday. The Michigan governor, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he regarded Kosygin as a reasoned, logical, intelligent individual who spoke clearly to the point. The premier was personally friendly but spoke frankly and bluntly, Romney said.

Beaver Local Rolls Over Southern 85-53 For 6th Win

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Final college football statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show that Ohio teams were much better on defense than on offense.

Toledo, ranked 12th, was the lone Buckeye team in the top 24 in offense, but there were four teams among the top in defense. Toledo was fifth, Kent State 11th, Miami 14th and Dayton 18th. In pass defense there were five Ohio teams in the top 12, with Kent State sixth, Dayton seventh, Toledo 10th, Xavier 11th and Miami 12th. Rushing defense finds Toledo 17th, Bowling Green 19th and Kent State 24th. Rushing offense has Miami 12th, Dayton 18th and Ohio State 20th. Toledo tied for third in scoring defense and Dayton tied for second in fewest fumbles lost.

Kent State led in punt return defense, allowing only 4.8 yards per return on 25 returns. Bowling Green was fifth in punt returns. In addition, West Virginia was ninth in total defense and 10th in rushing defense, Penn State was 23rd in total offense and Western Michigan was fifth in punting.

Individually, John Schneider of Toledo finished fourth in total offense, while Tom Sherman of Penn State was eighth and Cleve Bryant of Ohio U. 15th. Roland Moss of Toledo scored 96 points to tie for second in scoring, three touchdowns behind Leroy Keyes, and Don Abbey of Penn State placed fifth in scoring. Scoring by kicking found Ken Juskowich of West Virginia ranked eighth, Ken Crots of Toledo 12th and Dale Livingston of Western Michigan tied for 32nd. Livingston was also fourth in punting.

OHIO WAS well represented in rushing, with Don Fitzgerald of Kent State 13th, Dick Conley of Ohio U. 15th, Moss 16th, Bill Mayo of Dayton 23rd and Al Moore of Miami 32nd. Schneider was eighth and Sherman 19th in passing. Wil Perry of Kent State was 27th and Marty Barski of Western Michigan 32nd in pass receiving.

West Virginia's John Mallory ended fifth in punt returns, Conley was 14th in kickoff returns and Mickey Depp of Pitt 17th and George Riggs of Marshall 19th in the latter department. Steve Bailey of Xavier placed fifth in interceptions and Ted Provost of Ohio State 16th.

In small college statistics, Mount Union was the national champion in passing defense, allowing only 61.4 yards a game through the air. Findlay was eighth. Waynesburg, with its fine season, was second in total offense, 13th in rushing offense, first in scoring with 53.7 points a game, fifth in total defense, 10th in rushing defense and fourth in scoring defense. Ashland was 14th in total offense, and Wittenberg was ninth in total defense.

Individually, Bob Badami of Ohio Wesleyan was 16th in rushing, Gary Lindsay of Westminster 22nd and Rick Harbold of Muskingum 30th. Ed Gowan of Case was 26th in passing and Jack Mental of Baldwin-Wallace 29th. Chris Smith of Oberlin was 29th in pass receiving and Fred Mitchell of Wittenberg 11th in scoring by kicking.

ALLAN HORNYAK of Bellaire St. Johns was named AA player of the week in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference last week. His average is down to 30.5.

DID YOU NOTICE that the leaders in all four NFL divisions lost Sunday? Green Bay, Dallas, Cleveland and Baltimore all bit the dust. Only the Colts' loss, of course, meant anything.

Big 2nd Period Leads To Victory

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Getting eight points or better from six men Beaver Local rolled to an 85-53 win over Southern Local on the Beavers' floor last night.

The win gives Lloyd Stockdale's team a 6-1 mark on the year while Al Girome's club is 0-7. Dave Mason netted 18 points to pace the winners while Mike Piatt added 16, Jim Reese 13 and Rex Campbell 11. Jay Clapsaddle had 18 for the losers and Rob Carter added 12 and Frank Francis 10.

Southern, playing deliberately, was hitting from outside and built up a 14-9 lead midway through the first quarter. But the Beavers went into a press, and led by Mason, they hit nine points to in a row to take a lead they never lost. It was 20-18 at the end of the period, but the second quarter was a disaster for Southern, as they were unable to penetrate the Beaver Local zone and committed seven turnovers. Meanwhile the home team was converting fast breaks off steals to move comfortably ahead 40-25 at halftime.

The third quarter was fairly even as Southern found their shooting eye, but in the last period the Beavers again dominated, as both coaches cleared their benches. Dennis Klembara, who suffered a severe leg injury in football, saw his first action of the year, but was still hampered by the hurt and came out quickly.

The home team hit 42 per cent of its shots, and were fairly consistent throughout the game. They got many easy shots, either on fast breaks or by being able to work the ball in. Southern hit 31 per cent for the evening, but by quarters the percentages were 47, 17, 50 and 18, hardly consistent.

The taller Beavers dominated the boards in the first half 31-21, but Southern came back in the second half and wound up ahead 57-56. Francis got 11 for the Indians while Campbell and Mason had 12 each for the Beavers. Southern committed 27 turnovers to 17 for the home team.

In the reserve contest Beaver Local trailed 29-26 at halftime but outscored Southern 29-4 into the last period and won 57-43. The losers were hurt when George Thompson, who led them with 13 points, sat out the second half to get ready for the varsity game. He also got 10 rebounds. Ron Malone added 10 points and Jim Bettis 13 rebounds.

Rick Squires had 13, Dan Myers 12 and Rick Metz 10 for the winners. Squires and Myers had nine rebounds each. Southern controlled the boards 59-52 and had 29 turnovers to 32 for the winners, but Beaver Local shot 46 per cent to 23 per cent for the losers.

Brilliant Nips Stanton In Double Overtime

Stanton, which can't seem to win the close ones, lost its fifth in six starts 68-66 in double overtime to Brilliant at Stanton last night.

Bob Evans scored four points in the second overtime to give the win to Brilliant. The Red Raiders had a shot at the buzzer but missed it. Only one of the losses for Dave Murray's team has been by more than four points.

Bill Koehnlein paced the winners with 24 and Cliff Slusher had 16. Evans and Jim Wilt had 13 each, Rich Robinson 12 and Tim Kamerer 11 for the Blue Devils, now 4-2. Brilliant hit 47 per cent to 32 per cent for the losers and both teams were mediocre from the foul line.

In the reserve contest Stanton led 15-13 at halftime but was throttled in the second half and lost 31-17. Jerry Haught had 14 for Brilliant and Terry Williams 9 for the losers.

Oak Glen Tops Benwood

Oak Glen evened its record at 3-3 with a 64-54 decision over Benwood Union at Oak Glen last night.

Dan Crago led Bob Starkey's team with 18 points and Jim Carnes had 17. Steve Logston came off the bench to net 10 and Perry (Biff) Stanley had 15 rebounds and Crago 12.

Sports Whirled

Final college football statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show that Ohio teams were much better on defense than on offense.

Toledo, ranked 12th, was the lone Buckeye team in the top 24 in offense, but there were four teams among the top in defense. Toledo was fifth, Kent State 11th, Miami 14th and Dayton 18th. In pass defense there were five Ohio teams in the top 12, with Kent State sixth, Dayton seventh, Toledo 10th, Xavier 11th and Miami 12th. Rushing defense finds Toledo 17th, Bowling Green 19th and Kent State 24th. Rushing offense has Miami 12th, Dayton 18th and Ohio State 20th. Toledo tied for third in scoring defense and Dayton tied for second in fewest fumbles lost.

Kent State led in punt return defense, allowing only 4.8 yards per return on 25 returns. Bowling Green was fifth in punt returns. In addition, West Virginia was ninth in total defense and 10th in rushing defense, Penn State was 23rd in total offense and Western Michigan was fifth in punting.

Individually, John Schneider of Toledo finished fourth in total offense, while Tom Sherman of Penn State was eighth and Cleve Bryant of Ohio U. 15th. Roland Moss of Toledo scored 96 points to tie for second in scoring, three touchdowns behind Leroy Keyes, and Don Abbey of Penn State placed fifth in scoring. Scoring by kicking found Ken Juskowich of West Virginia ranked eighth, Ken Crots of Toledo 12th and Dale Livingston of Western Michigan tied for 32nd. Livingston was also fourth in punting.

OHIO WAS well represented in rushing, with Don Fitzgerald of Kent State 13th, Dick Conley of Ohio U. 15th, Moss 16th, Bill Mayo of Dayton 23rd and Al Moore of Miami 32nd. Schneider was eighth and Sherman 19th in passing. Wil Perry of Kent State was 27th and Marty Barski of Western Michigan 32nd in pass receiving.

West Virginia's John Mallory ended fifth in punt returns, Conley was 14th in kickoff returns and Mickey Depp of Pitt 17th and George Riggs of Marshall 19th in the latter department. Steve Bailey of Xavier placed fifth in interceptions and Ted Provost of Ohio State 16th.

In small college statistics, Mount Union was the national champion in passing defense, allowing only 61.4 yards a game through the air. Findlay was eighth. Waynesburg, with its fine season, was second in total offense, 13th in rushing offense, first in scoring with 53.7 points a game, fifth in total defense, 10th in rushing defense and fourth in scoring defense. Ashland was 14th in total offense, and Wittenberg was ninth in total defense.

Individually, Bob Badami of Ohio Wesleyan was 16th in rushing, Gary Lindsay of Westminster 22nd and Rick Harbold of Muskingum 30th. Ed Gowan of Case was 26th in passing and Jack Mental of Baldwin-Wallace 29th. Chris Smith of Oberlin was 29th in pass receiving and Fred Mitchell of Wittenberg 11th in scoring by kicking.

ALLAN HORNYAK of Bellaire St. Johns was named AA player of the week in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference last week. His average is down to 30.5.

DID YOU NOTICE that the leaders in all four NFL divisions lost Sunday? Green Bay, Dallas, Cleveland and Baltimore all bit the dust. Only the Colts' loss, of course, meant anything.

Big 2nd Period Leads To Victory

By TURK PIERCE

Getting eight points or better from six men Beaver Local rolled to an 85-53 win over Southern Local on the Beavers' floor last night.

The win gives Lloyd Stockdale's team a 6-1 mark on the year while Al Girome's club is 0-7. Dave Mason netted 18 points to pace the winners while Mike Piatt added 16, Jim Reese 13 and Rex Campbell 11. Jay Clapsaddle had 18 for the losers and Rob Carter added 12 and Frank Francis 10.

Southern, playing deliberately, was hitting from outside and built up a 14-9 lead midway through the first quarter. But the Beavers went into a press, and led by Mason, they hit nine points to in a row to take a lead they never lost. It was 20-18 at the end of the period, but the second quarter was a disaster for Southern, as they were unable to penetrate the Beaver Local zone and committed seven turnovers. Meanwhile the home team was converting fast breaks off steals to move comfortably ahead 40-25 at halftime.

The third quarter was fairly even as Southern found their shooting eye, but in the last period the Beavers again dominated, as both coaches cleared their benches. Dennis Klembara, who suffered a severe leg injury in football, saw his first action of the year, but was still hampered by the hurt and came out quickly.

The home team hit 42 per cent of its shots, and were fairly consistent throughout the game. They got many easy shots, either on fast breaks or by being able to work the ball in. Southern hit 31 per cent for the evening, but by quarters the percentages were 47, 17, 50 and 18, hardly consistent.

The taller Beavers dominated the boards in the first half 31-21, but Southern came back in the second half and wound up ahead 57-56. Francis got 11 for the Indians while Campbell and Mason had 12 each for the Beavers. Southern committed 27 turnovers to 17 for the home team.

In the reserve contest Beaver Local trailed 29-26 at halftime but outscored Southern 29-4 into the last period and won 57-43. The losers were hurt when George Thompson, who led them with 13 points, sat out the second half to get ready for the varsity game. He also got 10 rebounds. Ron Malone added 10 points and Jim Bettis 13 rebounds.

Rick Squires had 13, Dan Myers 12 and Rick Metz 10 for the winners. Squires and Myers had nine rebounds each. Southern controlled the boards 59-52 and had 29 turnovers to 32 for the winners, but Beaver Local shot 46 per cent to 23 per cent for the losers.

Davidson Rolls Along, Beats Temple

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some folks laughed when Davidson, beaten in 12 of 27 games last season, made the Top Ten in The Associated Press preseason poll in college basketball.

They're not laughing any more at the Southern Conference Wildcats, who have won seven of eight games and lost only to third-ranked Vanderbilt by two points 81-79 in overtime.

The Wildcats, sixth-ranked in this week's AP poll, made previously unbeaten Temple their latest victims in the final of the Charlotte, N.C., Invitational Tournament Tuesday night.

Paced by the 6-foot-6 Mike Maloy, a sophomore from New York City who was voted the Most Valuable Player of the tourney, the Wildcats downed the Owls from Philadelphia 63-60.

Maloy made only 11 points, but his floor generalship was superb and drew praise from Coach Lefty Driesell. "He's so quick, he's unreal," Driesell said. "He has every move in the book under the hoop."

Fifth-ranked Indiana, Duke, St. Bonaventure, Louisville, Cincinnati, Wyoming and Louisiana State won in other major games.

Indiana, led by Earl Schneider's 23 points, beat Notre Dame 96-91 at Fort Wayne, despite Bob Whitmore's 30 points for the Irish.

On-rushing Duke, another team beaten only by Vanderbilt and that by one point, whipped Princeton 85-79 at Durham, N.C., behind Mike Lewis' 33 points and 20 rebounds.

Bob Lanier and Bill Butler combined for 50 points, each got 25, to lead St. Bonaventure to an 83-77 victory over Seattle in the final of the Tampa, Fla., Invitational.

Louisville beat St. Louis on the road 76-64 as Westley Unself, who finished with 20, broke loose for 18 points in the second half.

Rick Roberson's 25 points paced Cincinnati to a 69-58 home court victory over Southern California. Harry Hall also got 25 to lead Wyoming over Oklahoma on the road, 82-71.

Pistol Pete Maravich flipped in 46 points on his home court to spark Louisiana State over Mississippi 81-68. LSU now has won four games, one more than all of last season.

Auburn beat Rutgers 70-62 in the consolation game of the Tampa Invitational. Miami of Ohio took third place in the Charlotte Invitational by defeating Rice 70-66 in overtime.

Dennis Cantrell's field goal in the last 31 seconds gave Miami, Fla., a 72-71 home squeaker over Brown. In other home court victories, Ohio State downed New Mexico State, 78-75, Utah State beat San Jose, 110-93, Montana took Fresno State, 88-72 and Kansas State humbled North Dakota State 79-52.

On the road, Ohio University edged Portland 67-65 and Wagner overcame Seton Hall 99-91. On neutral courts, Duquesne whipped Kent State 78-63 at Canton, Ohio, and Arkansas defeated Centenary at Little Rock, Ark., 90-82.

Robertson Outscores Bradley, Royals Lose

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Oscar Robertson and Bill Bradley have met for the first time as professionals, and neither has gone out on a limb in discussing the other's ability.

The confrontation came Tuesday night, and Bradley's New York Knickerbockers beat Robertson's Cincinnati Royals 133-118 in a National Basketball Association game at Madison Square Garden.

"What can you say," the veteran Robertson commented when asked about Bradley.

"Time will tell. A year from now you can ask me."

Asked what he thought of Robertson, Bradley smiled, turned to teammate Dick Barnett and asked, "What do you think of Oscar Robertson?"

Then the $500,000 rookie added:

"He's the greatest basketball player in the world."

Another rookie — Earl Monroe — and veteran — Ray Scott — put on quite a show in Baltimore, but in this instance they were on the same team. The two combined for 59 points and led the Bullets past St. Louis 117-98. In the only other NBA game, the Boston Celtics topped the Seattle Supersonics 118-114.

Bradley, playing in his fifth NBA game, hit only three of 11 field goal attempts, but he did team with another rookie, Walt Frazier, to lead a fourth-quarter burst that clinched the victory for the Knicks.

Leading only 95-92 after three periods, New York opened up a 115-100 margin as Bradley and Frazier stole the ball, forced several Royal turnovers and set up baskets with slick passes. Bradley finished with eight points four assists and two rebounds.

Robertson, now in his seventh NBA season, scored 27 points — two less than New York's Willis Reed — handed out eight assists and grabbed seven rebounds. The Big O's points gave him a career total of 16,971, moving him into the fifth spot ahead of former Boston Celtic Bob Cousy in the all-time NBA scoring race.

Monroe scored 12 of his 32 points in the third quarter as Baltimore outscored St. Louis 31-17 and moved in front 82-64. Scott got eight of his 27 points in the period. Zelmo Beaty led the Hawks with 24.

Boston, trailing 92-84 in the third period, spurted past Seattle in its game on the West Coast. John Havlicke, Sam Jones and Bill Russell led the comeback that gave the Celtics the lead for good, 106-105.

Walt Hazzard of the Sonics scored a career high of 37 points, 29 in the second half. Larry Siegfried topped Boston with 20.

'Old' Packers Prepare To Defend NFL Title

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay's aging offensive linemen get a chance Saturday to send their critics off for another long winter's rest.

The critics warned before the 1966 season that the Packer linemen were getting dangerously old. Green Bay silenced them by capturing a second consecutive National Football League title.

But the critics are at it again as the Packers prepare for Saturday's Western Conference playoff with the Los Angeles Rams in Milwaukee.

"When they talk about the old men, they are talking about Bob Skornoski and me," said All-Pro Forrest Gregg, 34, "not Jerry Kramer, he's only 31."

"Every time they mention my age, it's a challenge," said Skornski, 33, the Packers' offensive captain. "You get very defensive."

If the critics are right, as eventually they may be, the age of the offensive linemen could be the Packkers achilles' heel in the match with the Rams.

It will be up to the linemen to protect quarterback Bart Starr from one of football's most formidable pass rushes—that staged by the Ram front four of Lamar Lundy, Roger Brown, Merlin Olsen and Dave Jones.

The Ram rushers are substantially taller and heavier at every position than the Packer blockers opposing them. The size and weight could be handicaps for the Packers, but the age factor certainly won't be, said Fuzzy Thurston, 33.

"This is where age counts—in the big game," said Thurston, who has been eased out of the Packer starting line-up by the younger and larger Gale Gillingham, 23.

Thurston has probably played in more major games than anyone in football history. He has been with five championship teams, including the 1958 Baltimore Colts, and has played in 12 post-season games.

"It helps to have that experience," he said. If Gillingham, foot-3, 253 pounds, should have trouble handling the 295-pound Brown, Thurston would be sent to left guard.

"He's quick and strong and intelligent. He's got all the physical and mental attributes. He's as good as any I've ever played against," Thurston said.

Injured QBs Meredith, Ryan Meet In Title Game

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Football's most battered up quarterbacks are ready to match pains in the big game of the year for Dallas and Cleveland.

It's the playoff for the Eastern Conference championship and the Cowboys and Browns get together Sunday in the Cotton Bowl.

And the hopes of both Dallas and Cleveland will ride on the passing arms of the two fugitives from a hospital—Frank Ryan of the Browns and Don Meredith of the Cowboys.

Both have been battered and bruised throughout the season. Meredith even got pneumonia and missed three games.

Dallas and Cleveland both present strong running games and it seems the passing should make the difference.

Happily it is reported that the quarterbacks both have their throwing arms in shape and both are willing to risk those pass rushes although they aren't very nimble considering their ailments.

Ryan has a bruised left forearm. It can't hamper his throwing but if it was hurt again it might get him out of the game where he couldn't throw at all.

Meredith has a broken nose and a twisted knee but he was laying 'em in there in practice Tuesday, indicating a return to form at just the right time.

"And now all we have to do is keep those guys (pass rushers) off of him," said tackle Ralph Neely.

Meredith has missed 4¼ games this season and his passing has suffered mostly from lack of practice and game action.

Ryan has been playing, too, although he probably ought to be in a wheel chair at times. He sprained his ankle in practice before the season started, he sprained the other one in the opening game of the season—against Dallas, which the Cowboys won 21-14. He played with two sprained ankles and one bruised finger on his passing hand and Cleveland lost to Detroit.

He got a bunged up right shoulder in the second period of the game with New Orleans but only missed one series of downs, leading the Browns to victory. Three games later he got a collar bone injury against Chicago, left the game and got patched up, then returned to score the first touchdown as Cleveland won 24-0.

Oakland Places Six On AFL All-Star Team

By HAL BOCK

NEW YORK (AP) — Six members of Oakland's Western Division champions dominate the American Football League All Star team selected for The Associated Press by a panel of 27 sports writers and broadcasters from across the country and released today.

The Raiders' balance was demonstrated in the voting by three-man committees from each of the AFL's nine cities with three Oakland players named to the offensive team and three to the defensive squad.

Heading the Oakland contingent is quarterback Daryle Lamonica, who has piloted the Raiders to their first divisional crown and leads the league in passing. He has thrown 29 touchdown passes, tops in the league.

Joining Lamonica on the offensive squad from Oakland are tight end Billy Cannon, who switched from running back two years ago and developed into a top pass catcher this season, and Jim Otto, a heavy choice at center.

In the backfield with Lamonica are Boston's muscular Jim Nance, who rushed for more than 1,000 yards for the second straight season, and Kansas City's evasive Mike Garrett at the running backs.

White Sox, Reds Active In Trades

By BEN OLAN

The Cincinnati Reds and Chicago White Sox finished fourth in their respective baseball pennant races last season. But they're well in the lead in the number of new players acquired through trades and purchases since the close of the 1967 campaign.

Cincinnati has picked up eight players. The White Sox, with General Manager Ed Short calling the shots, aren't short of new faces, either. They have seven, top figure in the American League.

The Reds obtained outfielder Mack Jones and pitcher Jay Ritchie from Atlanta, infielder Bob Johnson from the New York Mets, first baseman Fred Whitfield and pitcher George Culver from Cleveland, pitcher Ron Tompkins from the new Oakland A's and pitchers Bill Kelso and Jorge Rubio from California.

The White Sox made two six-player transactions. They obtained from Baltimore shortstop Luis Aparicio, outfielder Russ Snyder and first baseman-outfielder John Matias for pitchers Bruce Howard and Roger Nelson and infielder Don Buford. Then, in an interleague deal, they got outfielder Tommy Davis, pitchers Jack Fisher and Bill Wynne and catcher Buddy Booker from the New York Mets for outfielder Tommie Agee and infielder Al Weis.

Baltimore got two other new players for a total of five. They were pitcher John O'Donoghue and shortstop Gordon Lund from Cleveland.

The Mets, Cleveland and Philadelphia also got five players. New York's NL club got pitcher Al Jackson from St. Louis, first baseman-outfielder Art Shamsky from Cincinnati and catcher J. C. Martin from the White Sox in addition to Agee and Weis.

The Indians acquired outfielder Tommy Harper from Cincinnati, pitchers Eddie Fisher and Bob Scott and outfielder John Scruggs from Baltimore and outfielder Jose Cardenal from California.

The Phillies' new players are catcher Mike Ryan from Boston plus pitchers Woody Fryman, Harold Clem and Bill Laxton and infielder Don Money from Pittsburgh. The latter four came from Pittsburgh for pitcher Jim Bunning in the most recent trade last Saturday.

Four players each were acquired by Los Angeles and Houston. The Dodgers added shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Jim "Mudcat" Grant from Minnesota and infielder Paul Popovich and outfielder Jim Williams from the Chicago Cubs.

The Astros got pitcher Denny Lemaster and shortstop Denis Menke from Atlanta, pitcher Fred Gladding from Detroit and shortstop Hector Torres from California.

Each of the 20 big league clubs, except St. Louis and San Francisco, acquired at least one new player.

The Cards, though, got a new general manager, Bing Devine, who replaced Stan Musial.

Then, in an interleague deal, they got outfielder Tommy Davis, pitchers Jack Fisher and Bill Wynne and catcher Buddy Booker from the New York Mets for outfielder Tommie Agee and infielder Al Weis.

Baltimore got two other new players for a total of five. They were pitcher John O'Donoghue and shortstop Gordon Lund from Cleveland.

The Mets, Cleveland and Philadelphia also got five players. New York's NL club got pitcher Al Jackson from St. Louis, first baseman-outfielder Art Shamsky from Cincinnati and catcher J. C. Martin from the White Sox in addition to Agee and Weis.

The Indians acquired outfielder Tommy Harper from Cincinnati, pitchers Eddie Fisher and Bob Scott and outfielder John Scruggs from Baltimore and outfielder Jose Cardenal from California.

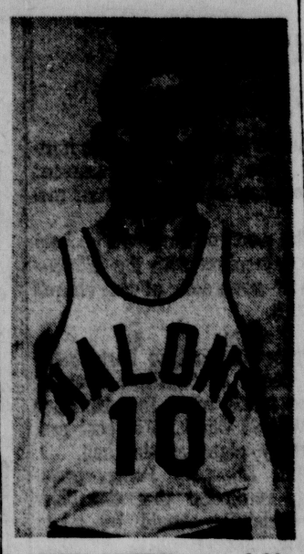

The Phillies' new players are catcher Mike Ryan from Boston plus pitchers Woody Fryman, Harold Clem and Bill Laxton and infielder Don Money from Pittsburgh. The latter four came from Pittsburgh for pitcher Jim Bunning in the most recent trade last Saturday.

Four players each were acquired by Los Angeles and Houston. The Dodgers added shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Jim "Mudcat" Grant from Minnesota and infielder Paul Popovich and outfielder Jim Williams from the Chicago Cubs.

The Astros got pitcher Denny Lemaster and shortstop Denis Menke from Atlanta, pitcher Fred Gladding from Detroit and shortstop Hector Torres from California.

Each of the 20 big league clubs, except St. Louis and San Francisco, acquired at least one new player.

The Cards, though, got a new general manager, Bing Devine, who replaced Stan Musial.

JOHN LEEDY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Leedy of RD 1, Hammondsville, is playing basketball on the JV team at Malone College in Canton. Leedy is a graduate of Stanton.

General Motors, Electrical Union Okay New Pact

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) Tuesday announced agreement on a new three - year contract covering 27,000 workers represented by the United Auto Workers, estimated to raise labor costs at roughly 6 per cent a year for the next three years.

The contract would become effective the Monday after the company receives notice of ratification and will expire Sept. 14, 1970.

Like the UAW contract, the IUE contract calls for an immediate general wage increase of 20 cents an hour and an additional 30 cents an hour for skilled tradesmen. Wages will be raised by nine to 16 cents an hour, depending on the employe's base rate, in each of the last two years of the contract.

The plants are Frigidaire, Dayton, Ohio; Delco Products' two plants at Dayton and Rochester, N.Y.; Delco Battery in New Brunswick, N.J.; and Packard Electric in Warren, Ohio.

The region referred to as the "roof of the world" is the Pamirs, a series of valleys at 12,000-foot elevation, in central Asia.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Spread Lost—Bounce Restored

It isn't middle age that spreads the figure, it's a limp spirit. A homemaker, jubilant at the results of slimming exercises, wants to share her experience with other readers. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"You are so aware of the psychological effects of keeping trim, that I believe you would like to have the details of my experience.

"A 10-pound reduction in itself does not seem like such a tremendous accomplishment compared with gals who have overcome huge amounts of excess weight. However, this was the right amount for me to lose and it has helped me to regain my bounce and given me greater self - assurance.

—:—

"HAVING reached 145 pounds at age 49, my five foot five and a half inch medium framed figure was bulging at the seams. I feared additional pounds would keep creeping on gradually until I had no shape at all—just the miserable looking middle spread.

"We all know that a sensible diet works, but it took slimming exercises along with the eat-to-build slimness plan to convince me of the value of combining exercise with right eating. The first four pounds came off easily. Then I got careless and a pound and a half eased back on. Even so, my measurements were less because I was exercising. That was the magic key that encouraged me to continue streamlining.

"Now my eating habits are reformed and I enjoy all my food so much more. Sweets are even more delightful in small quantities. I never did without anything I wanted, just ate small portions. If I felt tremendously hungry I made sure I ate heartily of lean meat or something of that nature.

"MY PRESENT measurements of 36-27-38 are the most nearly perfect proportions I ever possessed — I've always tended toward full hips. I fit into size 14 patterns perfectly without aggravating alterations. Keep up your daily morale boosters," she urged.

Right! The happiest reducers are those who team exercise with calorie curbing and change their food habits. A small amount of regular exercise not only slims off inches but helps you to come alive. With bounce and verve restored, it is rewarding to stay with a good pattern of eating.

We are grateful to this homemaker for sharing.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Producer Sees TV Changes Coming

Norman Felton is one of the more astute and conscientious TV producers, and he admits quite readily that the current season and past few have been "terribly drab." At the same time, however, he believes there's never been a more exciting time to be in TV.

Hal Humphrey

"It's because TV is so drab that it soon must go into a state of transition, if it hasn't already," says Felton, whose company produced "Dr. Kildare," "Eleventh Hour" and the recently canceled "Man From U.N.C.L.E."

-:-

"THE PEOPLE deserve better than they are getting on TV now," he adds

How is this transition to get started? Felton says it's up to the writers and producers to bring pressure on the network executives for programs that will stimulate the audience.

In the past few seasons of TV these network nabobs decided it was easier to go with the noncontroversial type of series, but now they know this stuff isn't working any more, or so Felton feels.

The top writers who abandoned TV some years ago should feel an obligation to come back now and fight, according to Felton.

"IN ONE RESPECT many of those writers who made their start via TV in the mid-50' can be blamed for the state of TV today," Felton says. "They insisted on doing exactly what they wanted, and much of it was above the heads of the masses then.

"After they left to write for the movies and stage, the networks swung to the other extreme and became too conservative. Now those writers owe it to TV, the medium which gave them their start, to return and participate in this transition."

Felton is aware that the writer still doesn't get recognition in TV, and since those mid-'50s of "live" TV he hasn't been able to write about what's going on in the world.

-:-

FELTON SAYS, though, that the time is ripe for those top writers to return to TV now and insist on giving TV programs some stature. TV quality must be stretched upward each year from now on or fail as a medium.

At present Felton has a producing agreement with NBC and is working on four projects — one a comedy set 1000 years from now, two serious dramas on which he says NBC already has given him a go-ahead nod and without the usual restrictions, plus another series which he temporarily has put aside because he was not satisfied with the way it was going.

About six years ago, when networks accepted such series as "Dr. Kildare," "Ben Casey" and "East Side, West Side," Felton believes there was a genuine effort to upgrade TV. Trouble started when some of these series got a little too cerebral and also the writing on them began flagging.

-:-

"WE PRODUCERS were to blame for that. We never found time to help new writers."

Of all the series on TV today, Felton thinks the only one attempting to come to grips with real ideas is "Run for Your Life". The others, he says, aren't about much of anything.

He defends his "Man From U.N.C.L.E" series on the grounds he at least introduced a new type of hero to TV, instead of the tall, handsome, all-American stereotype usually seen

Felton, who started as a writer himself, sees a connection between "the poverty of TV and the poverty of society." He says people are confused and find difficulty communicating with each other today, that "in a community of affluence, life is usually drab, so TV is also drab."

-:-

BUT HE INSISTS transition is here for both society and TV, and new methods of communication will be found and new arrangements of entertainment and information made.

"There's a new kind of thing going on now: a kind of audience participation is demanded of the people watching. The movie 'Blow-Up' is an example. One has to bring something of his own to it before he can enjoy it, fill in the blanks with his own imagination, so to speak," says producer Felton, enthusiastically.

On this note I left him and thought of all the blanks which already need filling in on TV.

Between 625, 725 Traffic Deaths Loom

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated today between 625 and 725 persons may die in Christmas holiday weekend traffic, half of the number in crashes in which liquor will be a factor.

The period covered by the estimate will extend from 6 p.m. local time Friday until midnight Monday, Christmas day.

"Somewhere in the neighborhood of 375 Americans are likely to die from traffic accidents related in some way to alcohol," William G. Johnson, council general manager, said in a statement.

"Probing a variety of fatal crashes, researchers in several states agree generally that the rate of alcohol involvement reaches—or surpasses—50 per cent," Johnson said.

The council also estimated 29,000 to 34,000 persons will suffer disabling injuries from Christmas holiday crashes. Statisticians said travel would probably total about 7.9 billion vehicle miles compared with about 7.6 billion during a nonholiday period of equal length.

The last three Christmases provided three-day weekends. In 1966 there were 600 traffic fatalities, in 1965 a record 720 and in 1964 there were 596. During a normal nonholiday period of identical length the count would be about 500.

Comptroller Denies Canton Bank Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — A merger application sought by the First National Bank of Canton, Ohio, and the Canton National Bank was denied Tuesday by the comptroller of the currency.

Comptroller William B. Camp said the "anticompetitive effects of this merger must condemn it unless the benefits which will rebound to the public interest. . . redeem it." He said they would not.

Each bank, he added, has grown with the city through a merger "that does little more than deny a community of desirable banking alternative is not in the public interest."

First National had deposits of $104.9 million on Oct. 11 and Canton National had $45 million.

General Motors, Electrical Union Okay New Pact

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) Tuesday announced agreement on a new three - year contract covering 27,000 workers represented by the United Auto Workers, estimated to raise labor costs at roughly 6 per cent a year for the next three years.

The contract would become effective the Monday after the company receives notice of ratification and will expire Sept. 14, 1970.

Like the UAW contract, the IUE contract calls for an immediate general wage increase of 20 cents an hour and an additional 30 cents an hour for skilled tradesmen. Wages will be raised by nine to 16 cents an hour, depending on the employe's base rate, in each of the last two years of the contract.

The plants are Frigidaire, Dayton, Ohio; Delco Products' two plants at Dayton and Rochester, N.Y.; Delco Battery in New Brunswick, N.J.: and Packard Electric in Warren, Ohio.

The region referred to as the "roof of the world" is the Pamirs, a series of valleys at 12,000-foot elevation, in central Asia.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Spread Lost—Bounce Restored

It isn't middle age that spreads the figure, it's a limp spirit. A homemaker, jubilant at the results of slimming exercises, wants to share her experience with other readers. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"You are so aware of the psychological effects of keeping trim, that I believe you would like to have the details of my experience.

"A 10-pound reduction in itself does not seem like such a tremendous accomplishment compared with gals who have overcome huge amounts of excess weight. However, this was the right amount for me to lose and it has helped me to regain my bounce and given me greater self - assurance.

—:—

"HAVING reached 145 pounds at age 49, my five foot five and a half inch medium framed figure was bulging at the seams. I feared additional pounds would keep creeping on gradually until I had no shape at all—just the miserable looking middle spread.

"We all know that a sensible diet works, but it took slimming exercises along with the eat-to-build slimness plan to convince me of the value of combining exercise with right eating. The first four pounds came off easily. Then I got careless and a pound and a half eased back on. Even so, my measurements were less because I was exercising. That was the magic key that encouraged me to continue streamlining.

"Now my eating habits are reformed and I enjoy all my food so much more. Sweets are even more delightful in small quantities. I never did without anything I wanted, just ate small portions. If I felt tremendously hungry I made sure I ate heartily of lean meat or something of that nature.

"MY PRESENT measurements of 36-27-38 are the most nearly perfect proportions I ever possessed — I've always tended toward full hips. I fit into size 14 patterns perfectly without aggravating alterations. Keep up your daily morale boosters," she urged.

Right! The happiest reducers are those who team exercise with calorie curbing and change their food habits. A small amount of regular exercise not only slims off inches but helps you to come alive. With bounce and verve restored, it is rewarding to stay with a good pattern of eating.

We are grateful to this homemaker for sharing.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Producer Sees TV Changes Coming

Norman Felton is one of the more astute and conscientious TV producers, and he admits quite readily that the current season and past few have been "terribly drab." At the same time, however, he believes there's never been a more exciting time to be in TV.

Hal Humphrey

"It's because TV is so drab that it soon must go into a state of transition, if it hasn't already," says Felton, whose company produced "Dr. Kildare," "Eleventh Hour" and the recently canceled "Man From U.N.C.L.E."

-:-

"THE PEOPLE deserve better than they are getting on TV now," he adds

How is this transition to get started? Felton says it's up to the writers and producers to bring pressure on the network executives for programs that will stimulate the audience.

In the past few seasons of TV these network nabobs decided it was easier to go with the noncontroversial type of series, but now they know this stuff isn't working any more, or so Felton feels.

The top writers who abandoned TV some years ago should feel an obligation to come back now and fight, according to Felton.

"IN ONE RESPECT many of those writers who made their start via TV in the mid-50' can be blamed for the state of TV today," Felton says. "They insisted on doing exactly what they wanted, and much of it was above the heads of the masses then.

"After they left to write for the movies and stage, the networks swung to the other extreme and became too conservative. Now those writers owe it to TV, the medium which gave them their start, to return and participate in this transition."

Felton is aware that the writer still doesn't get recognition in TV, and since those mid-'50s of "live" TV he hasn't been able to write about what's going on in the world.

-:-

FELTON SAYS, though, that the time is ripe for those top writers to return to TV now and insist on giving TV programs some stature. TV quality must be stretched upward each year from now on or fail as a medium.

At present Felton has a producing agreement with NBC and is working on four projects — one a comedy set 1000 years from now, two serious dramas on which he says NBC already has given him a go-ahead nod and without the usual restrictions, plus another series which he temporarily has put aside because he was not satisfied with the way it was going.

About six years ago, when networks accepted such series as "Dr. Kildare," "Ben Casey" and "East Side, West Side," Felton believes there was a genuine effort to upgrade TV. Trouble started when some of these series got a little too cerebral and also the writing on them began flagging.

-:-

"WE PRODUCERS were to blame for that. We never found time to help new writers."

Of all the series on TV today, Felton thinks the only one attempting to come to grips with real ideas is "Run for Your Life". The others, he says, aren't about much of anything.

He defends his "Man From U.N.C.L.E" series on the grounds he at least introduced a new type of hero to TV, instead of the tall, handsome, all-American stereotype usually seen

Felton, who started as a writer himself, sees a connection between "the poverty of TV and the poverty of society." He says people are confused and find difficulty communicating with each other today, that "in a community of affluence, life is usually drab, so TV is also drab."

-:-

BUT HE INSISTS transition is here for both society and TV, and new methods of communication will be found and new arrangements of entertainment and information made.

"There's a new kind of thing going on now: a kind of audience participation is demanded of the people watching. The movie 'Blow-Up' is an example. One has to bring something of his own to it before he can enjoy it, fill in the blanks with his own imagination, so to speak," says producer Felton, enthusiastically.

On this note I left him and thought of all the blanks which already need filling in on TV.

Between 625, 725 Traffic Deaths Loom

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated today between 625 and 725 persons may die in Christmas holiday weekend traffic, half of the number in crashes in which liquor will be a factor.

The period covered by the estimate will extend from 6 p.m. local time Friday until midnight Monday, Christmas day.

"Somewhere in the neighborhood of 375 Americans are likely to die from traffic accidents related in some way to alcohol," William G. Johnson, council general manager, said in a statement.

"Probing a variety of fatal crashes, researchers in several states agree generally that the rate of alcohol involvement reaches—or surpasses—50 per cent," Johnson said.

The council also estimated 29,000 to 34,000 persons will suffer disabling injuries from Christmas holiday crashes. Statisticians said travel would probably total about 7.9 billion vehicle miles compared with about 7.6 billion during a nonholiday period of equal length.

The last three Christmases provided three-day weekends. In 1966 there were 600 traffic fatalities, in 1965 a record 720 and in 1964 there were 596. During a normal nonholiday period of identical length the count would be about 500.

Comptroller Denies Canton Bank Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — A merger application sought by the First National Bank of Canton, Ohio, and the Canton National Bank was denied Tuesday by the comptroller of the currency.

Comptroller William B. Camp said the "anticompetitive effects of this merger must condemn it unless the benefits which will rebound to the public interest. . . redeem it." He said they would not.

Each bank, he added, has grown with the city through a merger "that does little more than deny a community of desirable banking alternative is not in the public interest."

First National had deposits of $104.9 million on Oct. 11 and Canton National had $45 million.

Liquor Agent Cleared Of Slaying In Toledo

Junior Editors Quiz on HANDSHAKING

QUESTION: When and why did handshaking start?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Handshaking is one of those customs we practice without realizing how it started. It is one of the rules, based on the ideas of courtesy and fair play, which grouped together, are called etiquette. The origin of handshaking goes back to the Middle Ages, when law courts and police were not available for protection as they are now. To guard themselves from attack, most men carried swords. The custom arose of extending the empty right hand to someone you wanted to claim as a friend, in order to prove that there was no sword in it and that you had no intention of provoking a quarrel. If your friend extended his own right hand in response and grasped yours, he was signalling his own peaceful intentions. As society grew more friendly, with more protection under the law, it was no longer necessary to carry a sword for defense. Yet handshaking remains as a symbol of respect for another person, expressing your trust that he will deal fairly with you as you intend to do with him.

Cindy Baily of Greeley, Colo., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash if your question, mailed to Junior Editors in care of The Review, is selected for a prize.

In 1952, 87 servicemen were killed in the crash of Air Force "Globemaster" plane at Moses Lake, Wash.

Junior Editors Quiz on HANDSHAKING

QUESTION: When and why did handshaking start?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Handshaking is one of those customs we practice without realizing how it started. It is one of the rules, based on the ideas of courtesy and fair play, which grouped together, are called etiquette. The origin of handshaking goes back to the Middle Ages, when law courts and police were not available for protection as they are now. To guard themselves from attack, most men carried swords. The custom arose of extending the empty right hand to someone you wanted to claim as a friend, in order to prove that there was no sword in it and that you had no intention of provoking a quarrel. If your friend extended his own right hand in response and grasped yours, he was signalling his own peaceful intentions. As society grew more friendly, with more protection under the law, it was no longer necessary to carry a sword for defense. Yet handshaking remains as a symbol of respect for another person, expressing your trust that he will deal fairly with you as you intend to do with him.
